German Escape Corridor Grows Steadily Smaller

Soviet Advances In Dnieper River Are Continuing Says Moscow

MANY LOCALITIES RETAKEN BY REDS

By NATALIA RENE (U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Oct. 29.—The German escape corridor in the lower Dnieper area dwindled steadily today, and elsewhere on the long Russian front the Nazis were hurled from more than 110 additional towns by continuing Soviet advances.

A 12-mile forward surge by Red army units southeast of the lower reaches of the Dnieper river extended the lower arm of a huge Russian pincer aimed at cutting off the fleeing German troops knifed while, other Soviet troops knifed at the railroad line west of the vital rail and mining center of Krivoy Rog.

Line Bulges Inward The Crimean line, extending from Zaporozhye on the Dnieper bend to the sea of Azov, bulged suddenly inward upon the retreating enemy. Soviet forces of Col. Gen. Fedor I. Tolbukhin pressed forward to seize, among other strategic objectives, the vital highway junction of Nizhnesirogoz. At this town, well into the Nogais Steppe, four principal roads intersect.

In this sector, Russian mobile forces incessantly pursued the enemy. The Soviet midweek supplementary bulletin said Red army tanks and infantry were "routing" the Germans. Much booty was captured, including nearly 450 German freight cars filled with war materials and food stores, as the Russians occupied town after town and the rail stations of Prisp and Akimovka.

Capture More Localities Within the Dnieper bend, the Soviet forces overcame fierce resistance on the part of the battered enemy. Rearguard actions sought to delay the forward rush of the avenging Russians who captured several more localities after fording the Mokrya Stira river.

Another sign of the season. Awnings on windows around the city are being taken down and stored for the winter.

New Castle high school football team goes to Clairton tonight for the crucial game of the season against the Clairton high school team. No reports on progress of the game or score can be given over the phone from The News, due to wartime conditions and banning of this service over telephone lines. Score of the game by periods will be posted at The News.

Next Tuesday is general election day. Due to the peculiar conditions that have developed whereby many of the candidates are practically without opposition, there is likely to be a light vote cast. Every voter should make an effort to get to the polls and vote, despite the lack of contests. It is a real civic duty to go to the polls every election day.

Ration Point Changes Made

Canned Fruit Ration Point Values Increased For November

SLIGHT DECREASE IN MEAT POINTS

By WILLIAM THEIS (U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The Office of Price Administration announced today that housewives must spend more points for most canned fruits next month but will find canned pumpkin, squash and beets down from three to six points. Major canned vegetables remain the same.

The new point values are effective Sunday, October 31. OPA also announced that numerous cuts of pork, veal and lamb were lowered for November, but that the 16-point ration value for a pound of creamery butter will continue. Beef cuts will remain the same.

Point increases also were included for shortening, salad and cooking oils, margarine, and country and process butter. Cream cheese, neufchatel cheese, creamed cottage cheese and cream spread items were boosted two points for November.

New Point Values At the same time, OPA said that the sale of jams, jellies, preserves and fruit butters, frozen since October 23, will be resumed Sunday (October 31) at the following point values: Jam, preserves or non-citrus marmalades (one pound jars) 6 points; jellies, 4; fruit butters, 4.

Citrus marmalades of which there is no scarcity, will be point-free. The November point table boosted tomato catsup from 15 to 18 points and increased by one point each tomato sauces, and tomato sauces in combination packages with cheese.

Points Boosted Canned fruit points were boosted as follows: Apples (No. 2 can) from (Continued On Page Two)

Final Drive On The Solomons Is Begun By Allies

Troops Go Ashore In Treasury Island Group Under Naval Bombardment

ONLY MINOR JAP OPPOSITION SEEN

By FRANK ROBERTSON (U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Oct. 29.—Allied troops have gone ashore in the Treasury Island group in the northern Solomons under cover of a powerful naval bombardment to launch the final drive in the Solomons against the last Jap stronghold on Bougainville Island. Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

Land On Mono The initial landing by amphibious forces was made on Mono, largest of the five-island Treasury group, during a rain squall in the dark hours of Wednesday morning and gained for the Allies a position some 40 miles from the vital Kahili airfield at the southern tip of Bougainville.

United States naval forces laid down a protective smokescreen and bombarded the area under attack with a powerful gun barrage. An aerial umbrella also was provided.

Only minor Jap opposition was encountered and this was readily subdued by the Allied troops which silenced the enemy mortar batteries and forced the Jap defenders to flee inland.

The quick Jap retirement enabled the main landing party to run ashore from ships and landing craft without interference.

Roosevelt Reveals That General Agreements Have Been Reached

PLANS FOR FURTHER BLOWS AT GERMANY

By ROBERT G. NISON (U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—President Roosevelt acclaimed today the tri-partite conference at Moscow as a tremendous success and revealed that general agreements have been reached between the United States, Great Britain and the Soviet Union on the mutual prosecution of the war and post-war policies.

Chief executive said that to all intents and purposes the Moscow conference is now over and all that remains to be done is to place the signatures on the documents.

Mr. Roosevelt said that there has been a 100 per cent spirit of co-operation and understanding between the three great Allied countries, and the results and agreements arrived at in this first historic meeting between the representatives of the three powers will be announced shortly, probably in Moscow.

There has yet been no agreement on a personal meeting between President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Joseph Stalin, the President said. Asked about the possibility of this major conference, the President said he knew nothing other than what was known two weeks ago.

The conference at Moscow, he said, had reached full unanimity on plans for further blows aimed at crushing Germany and of mutual aid in actions in the transition period from war to peace after an Allied victory is won.

Mr. Roosevelt said the conference between the three secretaries of state had dealt with the major issues of war and peace, rather than minor details. They laid down a general policy for war and peace co-operation between the United States, Great Britain and Russia, he said.

The terrific destructive effect of the Anglo-American aerial offensive; the general retreat in Russia, and the collapse of Italy are reported to have brought the German people to a state of despair bordering in some respects on that which prevailed in 1918.

President Gets Coal Wage Issue; Strike Threatens

Strike Of 50,000 Miners Is Certified To White House By War Labor Board

STRUCK MINES MAY AGAIN BE SEIZED

(BULLETIN) WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—(INS)—A fourth general coal strike Monday appeared inevitable today as defiant "wildcat" walkouts spread to 11 states with more than 80,000 miners idle.

Some operators frankly prepared for the shutdown, barring drastic action by President Roosevelt or forthright orders from John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers president, for the coal diggers to remain at work.

Mr. Roosevelt remained silent on the grave situation in coal fields at his news conference this morning.

East Side Area Plans To Dedicate Honor Roll Sunday

Residents In Vicinity Of Ben Franklin High To Honor Service Men

Residents of the east side of the city in the vicinity of the Benjamin Franklin Junior High School will dedicate an honor roll Sunday afternoon October 31 containing the names of the men and women of the district who are now serving with the armed forces. The dedication will take place at three o'clock on the lawn of the Benjamin Franklin school.

The honor roll is sponsored by the air raid wardens of Posts 4 and 5, with the following committee handling the details of the dedication: Jacob De Fonso, chairman, Louis Solomon, Norman Casino, Louis DeLillo, Herb Johnson and Nicholas Vago.

Frank L. Burton Speaker Superintendent of Schools Frank L. Burton will make the dedicatory address. The invocation will be delivered by Fr. John M. Under of St. Joseph's church and the benediction by Rev. G. S. Bennett of First Christian church. The New Castle senior high school band will play, directed by Joe P. Replogle and the Neshannock Post No. 315, Veterans of Foreign War Post, will have charge of the flag raising and the Boy Scouts will unveil the honor roll.

In the case of inclement weather, the exercises will be held in the auditorium of the Franklin school.

ALGIERS, Oct. 29.—United States warships have been thrown into the battle for Rome and have heavily bombarded German shore positions in the Gulf of Gaeta, 30 miles north of Naples. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters announced today.

Both American cruisers and destroyers participated in the bombardment of the Nazi fortifications and hurled furious blasts into the enemy coastal communications.

The warships went into action as the fifth and eighth armies closing for an assault on the new Nazi Mondragone-Vasto defense line pushed the Germans back in heavy fighting.

New Coal Strike In Area Feared

Mine Leaders In Western Pennsylvania Silent On Strike Situation

LEWIS HAS REJECTED WLB WAGE DECISION

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 29.—While mine union leaders in Western Pennsylvania kept discreet silence today, coal operators were preparing for a general strike by Monday following John L. Lewis' rejection of the War Labor Board's decision in the union wage dispute.

Today is payday at most Pittsburgh district pits—"and that," remarked one observer, "usually leads to a stoppage of work in situations such as this one." It was considered likely, therefore, that some mines about Pittsburgh may shut down today.

Analysts of Lewis' telegraphed message to all district union presidents noted that it omitted instructions for the United Mine Workers to stay on the job after telling them the WLB decision would cut their average pay four and a half cents an hour.

Drastic Action Needed

Apparently, the only alternative to a general strike was drastic action by President Roosevelt or convincing instructions from Lewis to the coal diggers to stay at work.

Meanwhile, one new walkout appeared definitely under way at Nantux, near Johnstown, Pa., where representatives of 1,000 Heislley Coal Company miners voted last night to stop work today.

Two other small Pennsylvania operations were shut down yesterday in protest over the WLB decision. They were the Sagamore mine of the Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal Company at Sagamore, and the Bird Coal Company's pit at Tower Hill.

No Comment

Most Pittsburgh district union executives with authority to speak refused to comment on Lewis' message. Many were absent from their offices, some believed en route to Washington to attend the United Mine Workers' policy committee meeting in Washington Monday.

A shutdown of only a few days would have havoc in the nation's industries, since reserve coal supplies in many areas are depleted as a result of two large-scale strikes since April. In Pittsburgh many citizens are suffering from a coal "famine" now, with dealers unable to fill 175,000 tons of back orders.

The strike epidemic swept into Eastern Ohio yesterday, with walkouts at several important mines; and in West Virginia it was feared that more workers would join those who have walked out at about a score of pits.

on the Russian front is considered likely to be much lower, but doubt prevails in Washington official circles that any complete collapse of the Nazi war effort will come first on the fighting fronts—unless the retreat in Russia should suddenly develop into a rout.

Nazi Propaganda Efforts

Meanwhile, the Nazi propaganda in Germany is striving desperately to maintain the fighting spirit of the people. The Germans are being told of terrible reprisals to be meted out to the Allies. There are frequent hints at new secret weapons.

Nevertheless, diplomatic reports indicate a growing tendency on the part of many Germans to accept defeat at the hands of the American and British forces in the expectation they will act as protectors against the Russians.

However, what desire there is for peace among the Germans is believed to be finding little effective expression because of the terror of the Gestapo.

The deceased was born in Chewtown, November 15, 1917. Shortly afterwards the family moved to New Castle.

Mr. Gumienny was a member of the St. Joseph's church. He was married to Mrs. Anna Haffner Gumienny, who survives.

In addition to his wife, he leaves his mother, Mrs. Bessie Gumienny, of Meadville, Pa.; a brother, Edmund, this city, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rapp, of New Castle.

The body is at the A. Darrell Burke funeral home. Funeral arrangements are incomplete, at this time, will be announced tomorrow.

states were seen as a prelude to a general strike of 150,000 soft coal diggers when the United Mine Workers' "strike" pledge expires Sunday. The case was certified to the White House by the War Labor Board.

Meanwhile, the WLB issued a decision granting 80,000 Pennsylvania anthracite miners a wage increase of 32.2 cents per day, the exact amount due under "little steel" formula. The board made no provision for "port-to-port" pay in the anthracite case. The hard coal miners are paid a basic underground common labor rate of $6 a day.

May Seize Mines

Mr. Roosevelt may order seizure of the struck soft coal miner or direct Economic Czar, Fred M. Vinson, to employ sanctions against the union and its members who defied back-to-work orders from both the WLB and international officers of the UMW.

The possibility of a general work stoppage by all of the UMW's 450,000 bituminous miners became more grave with the dispatch of a telegram by Mine Chief John L. Lewis to UMW district officials denoting a flat rejection of the WLB's decision on the Illinois wage contract regarded as a "model" for the soft coal industry.

Lewis bluntly informed his local lieutenants that the board's formula in the Illinois case would "impose a reduction on the mine workers of the nation amounting to 4½ cents per hour." Thus, he virtually closed the door to acceptance of the WLB's invitation to modify the contract and resubmit it for approval.

Challenge Lewis' Statement

A WLB spokesman later challenged Lewis' interpretation of the board's ruling, but the miners had been given a clear intimation by their chief that the prospects for a new wage agreement—sought by the UMW since last March 31—were exceedingly dim.

At the end of the third general strike last July, Lewis pledged the miners to continue work until Oct. 31 under government operation of the mines while negotiations went forward for a new agreement. Alabama miners laid down their tools more than two weeks ago when the government relinquished control of the mines.

Now there appears little hope for a wage agreement by Sunday midnight, posing the problem for the remainder of the union's membership of whether to continue at work beyond that date. Lewis so far has given no hint that he will order an extension of the truce.

Meets Again Monday

The UMW's 200-man policy committee, which approved the proposed Illinois contract at its last meeting Sept. 16, meets in Washington again Monday to consider the WLB's refusal to approve the pact and take any other action necessary in the coal crisis.

In this telegram designed to "allay confusion" on the Illinois action by the board, Lewis said the WLB "is asking the mine workers of the nation to accept a reduction in their basic hourly rate."

"The existing basic hourly rate is $1 per hour for seven hours work or $7 a day," he said. "The WLB proposes a rate of $8.12½ for a work day of 8½ hours or an hourly rate of 95½ cents per hour. Acceptance of this plan would impose a wage reduction on the mine workers of the nation amounting to 4½ cents per hour."

Lewis' figures stemmed from the fact that the WLB cut the proposed day wage rate of the Illinois pact from $8.50 to $8.12½, terming 37½ cents a wage increase in violation of the "little steel" formula. The board argued that the miners spent an average of 45 minutes in underground travel and therefore only seven hours and 45 minutes of productive work.

"ST. LOUIS BLUES" AUTHOR SUFFERS FRACTURED SKULL
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—(INS)—W. C. Handy, world-famous author of "St. Louis Blues," was resting quietly today at Harlem hospital, although still in serious condition from a fractured skull which he received when he fell from a subway platform.

CADET ADMITS KILLING WIFE

said, scratched his face in an altercation and stolen his RCAF uniform.

So it might have been the sight of a real Maurice Worcester, outraged and indignant, which moved the student flyer to make the screamed confession that he had bludgeoned and strangled his estranged wife, mother of an 18-months old son.

Fate Intervenes

It was fate surely, which made Loneragan select the name of a man whose hobby was genealogy, who through his studies knew that he most likely, was the only Maurice Worcester living in the United States. Certainly, it was fate that the real Maurice Worcester should have been discharged from the army only last April and that the jibes of his fellow workers in a Bridgeport, Conn., war plant should have driven him to appear before the New York authorities to clear his name of the stigma which Loneragan had placed upon it.

It was shortly after the appearance of Worcester yesterday that Loneragan's cocksureness wore off to be followed by a complete breakdown as he screamed hysterically: "Yes, I did it. I did it. I killed her."

Solution In Less Than Week

The solution of the crime came less than four days after Mrs. Loneragan's nude and battered body was found sprawled on the bed of her luxurious triplex apartment in the swank Beekman Hill section. Loneragan, who had been in New York on leave during the week-end, was taken into custody the following day in Toronto, dressed in civilian clothes.

The exact motive for the brutal crime is yet to be established. One version relates that the flying student killed his wife in a fit of rage when she refused him money and also denied him the opportunity to visit his son. Another states that the estranged couple quarreled violently because of extra-marital relations.

But whatever the motive, it was fate that turned detective in one of the city's most sensational crimes of recent years and Loneragan's name today was added to the long list of those who have been brought sharply to realize that, in truth "crime does not pay."

10 to 15 points; berries, all varieties (No. 2 can) from 10 to 15; mixed fruits (No. 1 tall can) from 18 to 20; pears (No. 2½ can) from 21 to 24; and pineapple (No. 2½ can) from 34 to 36.

OPA pointed out that the reduction in the point value of lamb, pork and veal items means, in effect, a six per cent increase in consumer allowance of all rationed meats.

"It should be kept clearly in mind, however," OPA said, "that there seems little possibility of civilian butter supplies increasing greatly in the near future."

OPA said that consumer use of margarine must be kept at present levels. Margarine points were raised from four to six.

Forty-two pork, veal, lamb and mutton items were reduced from one to two points. Only meats to show an increase in point value are boned and boneless, sliced, ready-to-eat ham.

Beef supplies for civilians probably will decrease approximately 5 per cent next month, OPA said, due to heavy military purchases.

Green stamps A, B and C from new ration book four will be used for the first time to buy processed foods starting November 1, and will be valid through December 20. Blue stamps X, Y and B in book two, validated for October, may be used through November 20.

FINAL DRIVE ON THE SOLOMONS IS BEGUN BY ALLIES

neutralized the bases was seen in the fact that no enemy aircraft appeared.

Besides placing the Allies only 100 miles from Kahlili, the position brings United Nations forces to within only a little more than 30 miles from the Ballale airdrome on Shortland Island. The northward move carried the forces under command of Admiral William F. Halsey to within 300 miles of Rabaul, big New Britain island base which is the goal of the twin drive from the Solomon and New Guinea being directed by Gen. MacArthur.

Attack Cargo Ships

Allied reconnaissance planes, ranging over the northern tip of Bougainville, attacked three small Jap cargo ships at Green Island in the Buka area. Two were left in flames and the third was forced to beach.

Attacks were made from the air on shipping around New Britain. Off Ulu heavy Allied craft set one Jap destroyer on fire with a direct hit and scored near misses on a second destroyer.

Medium bombers at night and attack planes during the day delivered a dual blow against the Gasmata airdrome on the south shore of New Britain. The airfield and supply dump areas were damaged.

One New Guinea Allied fighter patrol intercepted an escorted Jap bomber force near Finschhafen and shot down six bombers and six fighters definitely and are believed to have got another six enemy planes. The Jap craft were believed trying to supply their ground forces or bomb Allied shipping. One Allied fighter was shot down and three others damaged.

would-be celebrators remember to heed the warnings of the police that vandalism and destruction of property will not be tolerated. Mummings will probably be much fewer than for years past. Only two community programs have been scheduled for this year in the county, out at Bessemer and one at New Bedford.

New Castle Community Chest and United War Fund workers made their first reports yesterday, and the total reached was $38,700. Next reports are scheduled for Saturday at noon. The campaign goal is $125,000 so that it is going to take the support of every citizen and organization in the community to meet the sum designated.

MOSCOW PARLEY IS REAL SUCCESS SAYS PRESIDENT

Secretary of State Cordell Hull He said that Hull deserves a great deal of credit for his splendid representation. The results of the conference, he said, have been amazingly good. To use a nautical term, the conference has been a "happy ship," the President said.

The principle objective, he continued, was to prevent later wars in the world after this major conflict is concluded. They didn't sit around splitting hairs, as to who would get this little bit of territory or who would have jurisdiction in this small portion of Europe or elsewhere afterward, he emphasized.

MASKED PARTY HELD AT JAMESON NURSES HOME

A gala occasion was held in the Jameson Memorial hospital Nurses Home on Thursday evening, when the nurses gathered for a hallowe'en costume party.

Amidst a weird setting of corn stalks, laughing pumpkin faces, lights dimmed with shades of witch faces, the mummies gathered in quiet fashion. Many visited the fortune telling tent with Sarah Thompson, social director of the nurses home, revealing the future. A special highlight was the inspection of the freshmen, who attended 'dressed as ordered' by their superiors. This was in charge of Ruth Cox.

Entertainment including games of a wide variety, music and dancing filled in the remaining hours. For the cleverest costume worn, Julia Martin was the prize winner, while trophy for the most comic outfit went to Mary Herberg.

A tasty hallowe'en lunch was served to upwards seventy guests by those in charge, with Altha Gwin chairman. The school song was sung in unison at the close.

Decorations were planned by Jean King and her committee while the entertainment was conducted by Florence Scriven and Mary Herberg.

N.A.L.C. MEMBERSHIP AT FORNEY RESIDENCE

Mrs. Mont Forney, Carlisle street, received the N. A. L. C. membership in her home Thursday evening for a social and business session combined. Mrs. Fred Thompson presided over the routine period, when a letter received from Capt. M. O. Brock, of Camp Reynolds, at Transfer, Pa., extending sincere appreciation and gratitude for the afghan the N. A. L. C. of New Castle made and sent to them. In his message of thanks he stated that the gift is being used in the solarium of the camp hospital.

It was also announced that another afghan is being knit by the ladies, which will be donated to the Deshon Army hospital. Work on this proposed gift and knitting for the local chapter of American Red Cross provided entertainment during the remainder of the leisure time. Tasty refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

November 18 members will meet with Mrs. Wesley Mann, Morton street.

MASKED PARTY HELD AT JAMESON NURSES HOME

A gala occasion was held in the Jameson Memorial hospital Nurses Home on Thursday evening, when the nurses gathered for a halloween costume party.

Amidst a weird setting of corn stalks, laughing pumpkin faces, lights dimmed with shades of witch faces, the mummies gathered in quiet fashion. Many visited the fortune telling tent with Sarah Thompson, social director of the nurses home, revealing the future. A special highlight was the inspection of the freshmen, who attended "dressed as ordered" by their superiors. This was in charge of Ruth Cox.

Entertainment including games of a wide variety, music and dancing filled in the remaining hours. For the cleverest costume worn, Julia Martin was the prize winner, while trophy for the most comic outfit went to Mary Herberg.

A tasty halloween lunch was served to upwards seventy guests by those in charge, with Altha Gwin, chairman. The school song was sung in unison at the close.

Decorations were planned by Jean King and her committee while the entertainment was conducted by Florence Scriven and Mary Herberg.

PRESBYTERIAN GROUPS WILL GIVE DONATIONS

PROGRESS IN THE PACIFIC

When their American opponents were unprepared and unready, the Japanese had some basis for their conviction that they were invincible in battle. Like the Germans in Europe in the early phase of the war, they swept from conquest to conquest, from Pearl Harbor to the Philippines, to Singapore, New Guinea, the Solomons, Malaya, Attu and Kiska.

Japan had been a military nation for centuries and the Jap had always beaten the white man. Further, they thought they were taking on a nation of softies, armed civilians without martial ardor or warlike traditions. It is fairly easy to understand that they had no reservations in their ideas of what could be done to the Americans and that their vision even contemplated a landing on the California coast after Pearl Harbor.

Now the tide has turned. The Japs are meeting Americans trained and equipped for fighting them and they are getting beaten. They are being beaten on land, in the air and on the sea. In fact, their fleet is no longer willing to risk battle, as the experience at Marcus Island demonstrated.

The history of the war in the Pacific during the last year has proved, if proof were needed, that the United Nations are superior to the Japanese in all that is required for success in warfare—in skill, courage and equipment.

ENEMIES STILL HAVE LONG EARS

A group of Federal agents, military intelligence and retired Army and Navy officers in the Miami area have formed a "Committee for Security of War Information." The movement seems to have had pretty adequate inspiration.

An FBI agent recently spent a night in one Florida city and the following day related to Army Air Force officers a considerable amount of military information he had picked up in that one evening.

Presumably much of it was the case or civilians were the principal offenders, but whether that is the case or civilians were the principal offenders, the danger is the same. A nation-wide determination to say nothing that could in the slightest degree aid the enemy is imperative. We must let him learn our military secrets when they hit him, not before.

WINTER DRIVING

The family car will not start up so easily this winter, or run so nimbly. And although gas may not cost any more, there will not be so many miles per gallon. There will be gas shortages, too. But it should not be blamed on the gas stations, nor the weather, if the latter factor is normal, nor on the rationing boards, which presumably will be doing a hard and thankless job as well as they can.

Drivers are being warned to avoid as much trouble as possible by taking better care of their cars, adjusting their motors to the low-grade fuel, keeping an eagle eye on the battery, and remembering that the auto power plant is growing older and requires more care than usual. It may be easier to handle this problem if motorists can remember the last war and the troubles they expected then, as a matter of course, to keep the little old bus running. At the worst, winter operation should be much better now.

WHY NOT INCENTIVE POINTS, TOO?

There's much talk nowadays about "incentive" wages and "incentive" taxes, based on the psychological fact that a little encouragement often goes a long way. As OPA changes pilots, it seems a good time to revive the suggestion that it provide a special incentive to housewives whom WPB has been urging to save more kitchen fats and grease for the war effort.

WPB says that while seven millions pounds are being salvaged each month, as much more is being thrown away. How about giving the housewife some extra points for the stuff she turns back to the butcher? In most instances this concession would be far more appreciated than the few pennies a pound now being paid.

The additional points would only be refunded, after all, since they were required for the original purchase with its surplus fat. This innovation would be particularly welcome on account of the recent increases in point values, which have made the family marketing problem more vexatious than ever.

BRITONS AND POCKETS

London milliners, in a flash of inspiration, have converted discarded tennis balls into women's hats. To unpracticed masculine eyes, there is nothing remarkable about that.

But when the issue is men's pockets—as it is at the moment in London—there is a subject on which every male in every land qualifies as an expert. As a sacrifice to Britain's wartime austerity program, two out of four vest pockets were abolished. British manhood wants 'em back.

With traditional stoicism, Britain's males accepted cuffless trousers. Once stylish stouts have sacrificed double-breasted coats for those skimpy single-breasted models which conceal no expanding waistlines. But long-suffering manhood has at last revolted against the pocket shortage. The controversy rages.

The London Times takes its stand four-square on the right side of the vest-pocket issue. The hearts of cuffless Americans go across the sea in sympathy and support. Unhesitatingly they plunk for a full complement of pockets. A man's pockets and what goes into them are his exclusive concern, no matter what the distaff side may think.

Without pockets, what becomes of pocketbooks? Where shall a man carry his money—if any—if not in his pockets? Where else can he file that mysterious accumulation of match books, stray notes, cigarettes, memos of things to defer, fountain pen and pencil, his watch and chain, provided he still has a watch and chain, missing addresses and telephone numbers? Where, if not in his pockets?

Two pockets, indeed! Better no vests at all than vests short-changed on pockets. There'll always be an England and, providence, there will always be men's pockets in men's clothes.

The American cow may be contented, but her butter customers certainly are not.

To the inhabitants, any German city looks like an accident just waiting to happen.

As all values are comparative, the man who now owns two pounds of butter and a box of shotgun shells must be considered well-to-do.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SOLVING PLAY PEN PROBLEMS

The play pen for indoors or outdoors is a boon to the mother and a good means of safety to the baby just beginning to move about, even up to the age of two or more. Besides, it can protect the infant indoors from drafts.

It is not expensive. Some fathers are able to make one of indoor size or a much larger one for outdoors. If homemade for out of doors it should be, of course, very sturdy to be safe and with bars close enough together so the baby can't push his head between them.

But nearly every mother faces the problem that the youngster dislikes being in the pen. It limits his freedom to move about over wide space and the likelihood of having as much personal attention as he would get outside it. Feeling the infant is safe, the mother is inclined to reduce suddenly her attention to him and to do things out of his sight. If he had been accustomed to watch and to creep and toddle after her about the house, he feels greatly cramped while in the pen. When he is put in the small or larger pen out of doors, he may be less contented since he feels so far away from his mother.

Start Practice Early
It is well to begin placing the baby in the play pen, for short periods, a few months before he begins to creep so he may grow gradually accustomed to its use before he has had the freedom of the house.

While he is in the pen, especially during the first few weeks, of it, it is desirable to post a schedule and follow it, whereby you do not leave him alone or out of sight for too long periods at a stretch. Once he begins to cry readily while in the pen, it is particularly important for you to post and follow such a schedule.

Many mothers write that they intend to let the baby cry it out in the pen. This is a good way to get him used to it. But it is not, for letting him cry it out, in the pen is very different from letting him cry it out in bed. In the latter case, he goes to sleep when tired out; but he seldom does in the former. There is pleasure from the sleep reward in the latter while there is no such reward from the former.

Return At Short Intervals
The usual reward is having you come to him and the longer he cries before you do come to him, the more ready he will be to keep on crying till you come next time. By going to him after short intervals, gradually increasing those intervals, you lengthen, you do not effect such a reward.

Some mothers trust to the pen indoors and outdoors unduly late. They are thinking of temporary convenience to them. As soon as the tot can easily learn the meaning of NO, he will profit from being taught, rarely used, of course. Then he will be able to follow her safely about the house and to be out of doors in safety. Just how to give the tot this valuable training is presented in my special bulletin "How To Teach The Tot The Meaning Of No." to be had for postage by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

LUCKY MEN
Young maidens hoped in days of old To win the love of knight or prince—

Or so in stories we were told. But life has greatly altered since Real prizes now are hard to find And knights are wholly out of date.

Today the women seem resigned With ordinary men to mate. The butcher and the baker wed; The plumber wins the maid he woos.

Who would the altar pathway tread From both brunettes and blondes may choose.

No matter what his trade or skill— Apprentice, chief or artisan, Become his wife some fair one will. There is a maid for every man.

Oh, happy males that this is so! By rich or poor or good or bad Or wise or foolish, high or low, A woman's love may still be had.

In spite of all the faults they see And all that mars men's selfish lives, A very lucky lot are we That women will become our wives!

PORK SAUSAGE
Sausage is a good source of nourishment. It is rich in protein and especially in fat.

It has about 150 calories to the ounce. It also contains a good supply of vitamins and minerals.

On account of being flavored with spices it tastes different from other pork products.

Some people like it stuffed in casings. Others prefer it in small cakes.

It should be cooked thoroughly. All pork products should be well cooked before they are eaten.

Sugar cured or smoked ham should be cooked just as thoroughly as fresh pork.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

We have a receptionist in our office, who, to my mind, may well serve as an example to all womanhood—and much of the manhood as well.

When I get off the elevator (usually about a quarter after nine) Vera greets me with a big smile.

Yet, she got up at 5:30 this very morning, and put in what is to many a person a full day's work.

She has cooked breakfast for her two young daughters, put up their luncheon for them, made the beds and taken the kids to school.

After that she got on the subway and spent an hour riding down to the office—standing all the way.

Until five o'clock she takes care of a constant stream of callers, making the unwanted ones feel a little better for her cheerfulness, looks after telegrams and messages, and does some clerical work.

Then, when for me the working day is over, she spends another hour on the subway, does her marketing, cooks dinner and washes the dishes.

When that is done she helps the girls with their home studies, and, finally at nine thirty or thereabouts, she has the rest of the day to herself.

She reads her paper, listens to the radio for a quarter of an hour and goes to bed.

"What do you do with your week ends?" I asked her.

"Oh, there's washing to do and ironing and mending and lots of other odds and ends."

Vera is a widow, good-looking, cheerful, and full of the joy of living.

Her income isn't large—it would be chicken feed to many kickers—but she makes it go and even puts some of it in war bonds.

My hat is off to Vera and the many thousands of women like her.

It makes me kind of ashamed to compare myself with her. I kick about as rationing, shortage of butter, the scarcity of steak.

She doesn't grumble. To her, life is a job to be done, with duties and responsibilities.

She doesn't feel the world owes her a living. To her there is beauty in work, love in her children, pride in keeping her home clean, decent and happy.

The next time you feel sorry for yourself, think of Vera.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)
NEW YORK—Vice Admiral Adolphus Andrews, commander of the eastern sea frontier.

"Our fighting men have been transported safely and without the loss of a single man in a troop transport convoy when escorted across the Atlantic by our navy."

CHICAGO—A. F. Whitney, president Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen: "The railroad men mean business this time. They refuse to be pushed around and be bound by the 'Little Steel Formula' or any other formula. They are entitled to the same living wage as those in other industries and have struggled long enough to get an increase in wages."

PHILADELPHIA—Secretary of Navy Frank Knox: "I have a suggestion to make... it is that a substantially identical declaration on international policy be made in the platforms of both parties at their national conventions."

NEW YORK—Former Ambassador to Japan Joseph C. Grew: "It is a sad and dreadful thing to have to face some months or a year or of additional bloodshed, but it is a much worse thing to quit now and have the children growing up and be obliged to do the job all over again, and with ten times as much bloodshed and suffering, when their turn comes."

INDIANAPOLIS—Admiral Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the U. S. Fleet: "Nothing in past history can be used as a comparison with what is to come, for nothing has taken place in the past that can equal the magnitude and intensity of effort which must be expended to gain victory."

Race Problem Studied By Junior League

Clergy Proves Courage In War Situation

By HELEN ESSARY
Central Press Columnist
WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The Junior League sometimes regarded as conservative, is proving itself more modern and alert than many organizations that fancy themselves aware of this changing world.

Not only is the league adapting itself cleverly to the war program but it is discussing the race problem. Discussing it out loud and considering it safely.

As one of the recent Washington lectures that are a customary part of the education for "provisional" membership, a Negro, Col. Campbell Johnson of the national Selective Service, talked to league candidates. He gave a calm picture of certain professional, educational and civic discriminations because of race.

The young "provisionals" were so interested in the topic and the way in which he presented it that many of them chose the race problem as the subject for the themes which are necessary to Junior Leaguers' preliminary course.

For 15 years similar discussions have been conducted in the Washington League. Last year the race problem was voted the Washington League's most popular subject. Leagues in other cities have also discussed this problem.

About 40,000 women, chosen from what is sometimes called the privileged class, belong to the Association of Junior Leagues. Its membership is made up of women who are, in the main, middle class. Its voice, though pitched to a gentle key, is therefore powerful.

Obviously this organization has determined not to be ostrich-like, hide its head apprehensively and whisper "Sh-h-h—the less said about the race problem, the better. We'll just pretend it isn't there and hope it will go quietly away."

The school of thought that pretends things aren't there is a soothing one. Dragging unpleasant situations into the open is often rash. At least, however, it is a way of clearing the air.

Undersecretary of State Edward Stettinius, Jr., has set up housekeeping in the state department with the same furniture he used as lend-lease administrator. It is handsome, mahogany and upholstered in dark green leather. The matching dark green rug was also brought from the lend-lease office.

The wall trimming the new undersecretary likes best is a big, lend-lease map. It shows the map of the world, with the map to callers, "those are the countries which we helped."

Undersecretary Stettinius' appointment clerk, Robert Lynch, is an agreeable gentleman who is doing the best he can to adjust himself and his chief to life in the new routine. Lynch also came from lend-lease.

It's quite a change going

FISCAL EXPERTS ARE SUMMONED

Eccles and Smith To Tell Committee Of Financial Condition Of Nation

By ROBERT HUMPHREYS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Mariner S. Eccles, chairman of the Federal Reserve board, and Harold D. Smith, director of the budget, were called before the House ways and means committee today for testimony on the financial condition of the government and the nation. Decision to bring the two fiscal experts before the committee stemmed from the determination of some members that the committee take the lead in launching a vigorous drive in decreasing government expenditures instead of increasing taxes.

Smith was asked to testify in an attempt to discover where government savings can be made. Eccles was called to discuss the overall financial position of the nation. Eccles has long been rated as one of the leading New Deal theorists on economic matters.

Two Billion Increase
During the past eight days the committee has voted to increase taxes by two billion dollars or less than one-fifth the additional revenue sought by President Roosevelt and the treasury department.

The additional money will come from higher excises, increased postage rates, and a boost in the excess profits levy against corporations leaving the regular corporate and personal income taxes at their present level.

With proposals for a sales tax rejected by a two-to-one vote yesterday, indications are that the committee will seek no more revenue, thus leaving the bill at approximately two billion dollars.

However, there is a movement gaining strength in the committee for the adoption of some kind of limit on government expenditures at a fixed ratio to revenue.

Mr. Roosevelt, himself, has spoken of financing the war 50 percent by borrowing and 50 percent by taxation.

GOP members claim 10 billion dollars could be trimmed from war expenditures without impairing the war effort. While most Democrats doubt that the reduction could be that great, many of them are convinced that economies can be effected and should be.

CARLISLE BARRACKS, Pa.—(INS)—Practically all Japanese prisoners in the Pacific are suffering from malaria, starvation, malnutrition and anemia or beri beri, according to Lt. Col. A. H. HAS CONSTIPATION "GOT YOU DOWN"?

Looking for Relief—With-out Pills, Harsh Purgatives?

Lasting relief! Without griping unpleasantness! That's the happy experience thousands have found by regularly eating gentle-acting KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN!

Why can ALL-BRAN give so many people such amazing results? Scientists say it's because ALL-BRAN really "gets at" one big cause of common constipation—lack of enough cellulose factors in the diet! KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is naturally rich in these elements which help the intestinal flora to properly lighten, and fluff up colonic wastes, for easy, natural elimination! ALL-BRAN is not a "purgative," does not "sweep you out"! It's a gentle-acting, "regulating" food.

If this is your trouble eat ALL-BRAN regularly. Drink plenty of water! See if you don't cheer its welcome relief! And don't forget—KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is highly nutritious. Each ounce serving contains more iron than 2 eggs, more phosphorus than a glass of milk! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

Daughter Of Ace Misses Her Dad

(International News Service)

STARKVILLE, Miss.—With the words, "Goodnight, daddy," two-year-old Merrie Scott kisses her father's picture every night and hopes some day she'll say instead, "Hello, daddy."

You see, Merrie is the daughter of Major Ed Scott, Jr., the Flying Fortress pilot who led the American bombers which destroyed the 22-ship Jap convoy in the Bismarck sea recently.

Merrie and her mother, the former Maxine Weston of Starkville, are living with Mrs. Scott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Weston. Merrie rarely ever misses a day going to town, where all the clerks greet her.

Major Scott, a graduate of Mississippi State college in 1938, received his wings at Randolph Field, Tex., and then reported to Mitchell Field, N. Y. There he received instruction in flying multi-engined bombers prior to being assigned to Panama.

Doing patrol duty in Trinidad and Guatemala he was ordered to the South Pacific, where he wrote his name into United States aviation history.

During 1942, military aviation accounted for only one fatal accident for every 1,750,000 miles flown.

GAS MISCONCEPTION

PITTSBURGH — (INS) — The prevalent idea that the greater the production of aviation gasoline the more there will be for automotive use was termed a popular "misconception" by J. K. Roberts, director of research for the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

Certain stocks needed for the production of aviation gasoline are gasoline production, he said. But it is also true that certain other stocks used for motor gasoline can be used for aviation blending, thereby increasing aviation production at the expense of motor fuel production.

Pope Pius XII and the clergy who are now confined to Vatican City by the Nazi invaders distrusts people of all faiths. But if it should happen that the enemy should decide to wreck this stronghold of Catholicism, Pius XII and all of his people must stay and take whatever fate and the evil hour sends. Not even the humblest monk "flee to safety."

Religion would become a hollow thing if its heads should show themselves without personal courage. Many members of Europe's royalty have lost face forever with their people because they ran away when the Nazis came.

Much of the strength of England during the Battle of Britain was inspired by the knowledge that their king and queen would remain and like their subjects take their chances in the bombing.

The who know Pius XII say that it would never occur to him to leave the Vatican however great the danger.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Pope Pius XII and the clergy who are now confined to Vatican City by the Nazi invaders distrusts people of all faiths. But if it should happen that the enemy should decide to wreck this stronghold of Catholicism, Pius XII and all of his people must stay and take whatever fate and the evil hour sends. Not even the humblest monk "flee to safety."

Religion would become a hollow thing if its heads should show themselves without personal courage. Many members of Europe's royalty have lost face forever with their people because they ran away when the Nazis came.

Much of the strength of England during the Battle of Britain was inspired by the knowledge that their king and queen would remain and like their subjects take their chances in the bombing.

The who know Pius XII say that it would never occur to him to leave the Vatican however great the danger.

GERMAN SUPPLY LINE OUT OF COMMISSION
CAIRO, Oct. 29.—(INS)—The vital Belgrade-Salonika railroad, only German supply line for Greece and Nazi-held islands in the eastern Mediterranean, has been knocked out of commission for a considerable time as a result of attacks by patriot forces, Yugoslav headquarters said today.

Four Eastern Ohio Mines Are Hit By Strike

MARTINS FERRY, O., Oct. 29.—(INS)—Four eastern Ohio mines were closed today by strikes in addition to four previously shut down, raising to approximately 3,000 the number of idle miners in this bituminous coal field.

Several hundred other miners are on strike in the Hocking Valley coal field farther west, and operators' spokesmen feared that none of the union mines would be in production Monday, barring unforeseen developments over the week-end. The latest U.M.W. strike truce expires Sunday night.

The four mines closed today and the number of miners on strike were:

Big Run mine of Rail and River Coal Co., near Bellaire, 500; Blaine mine of Lorain Coal and Dock Co., 400; Rail and River No. 3, 319; Barton mine of the Y. and O. Coal Co., 425.

Synthetic resin as a substitute for shellac has been found unsatisfactory by the only company in Mexico making phonograph records.

Overcrowding In Housing Is Cause Of Disease Spread

HARRISBURG, Oct. 29.—(INS)—Secretary of Health A. H. Stewart disclosed today that inadequate wartime housing and overcrowding was responsible for an epidemic spread of cerebrospinal meningitis this year in Pennsylvania with a "new high" of 958 cases reported to date.

"Other areas in the United States are showing similar increases in epidemic meningitis cases this year," he said. The last epidemic occurred in 1917 when 200 cases were reported in the state, resulting in 611 deaths.

For the first six months of 1943 there were 102 deaths out of a total of 388 cases of the disease reported, a fatality rate of 26 out of every 100 victims.

Stewart explained the epidemic meningitis is an acute infectious disease covering the membranes of the brain and spinal cord. He pointed out that "because it so often results in deformity, if not death, great precautions are necessary to prevent its spread."

"During a wartime period the disease increases in amount and severity due to overcrowding in localities where housing conditions are poor and large concentrations of persons are thrown into close personal contact," Dr. Stewart explained. "Fatigue is also a factor conducive to the spread of the disease."

The counties where a majority of the cases were reported this year were Philadelphia, Allegheny, Cambria, Carbon, Delaware, Luzerne and York.

County Judge Is Given Surprise

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—(INS)—Brooklyn County Judge Peter J. Brancato was a much wiser man today in the field of higher learning.

The jurist was surprised considerably yesterday when 15 tight-lipped youths—all wearing pork-pie hats—walked into his courtroom and refused to answer any questions. They were held in contempt of court.

About an hour later, a spectator disclosed that the youths were students at St. John's school of arts and sciences, and were being initiated into Phi Alpha Sigma fraternity. They had been ordered not to speak to anyone, regardless of the reason.

Oh yes—the judge also learned that his own son, Peter, Jr., was one of the offenders.

All were released subsequently.

Capitalism And Communism Are Discussed By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1943, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)
BABBON PARK, Mass., Oct. 29.—Great events have been going on at Moscow. Let us hope that the leaders of the three nations represented will have faith and courage enough to agree. Three things are true: (1) That so-called "permanent peace" can come only when the world is under one powerful government. (2) That this cannot at once come about but will take many generations. (3) That it is now possible to divide the world into three spheres of influence: The United States, responsible for the Western Hemisphere; Great Britain, responsible for Europe and Russia, responsible for Asia and the Far East.
How World Peace Will Come
Let us assume that World War II brings about these three spheres of power. This should give us peace for many years. Within fifty years from now, however, these three groups will get fighting among themselves which will result in knocking out one of them. One hundred years from now the two remaining groups will get into war and one will whip the other. That nation will then rule the world and there will be real peace. Different sections will try—at different times—to get free, and civil wars or insurrections will take place; but they will always be put down. Gradually some form of universal democracy will develop but it surely will not be our "survival-of-the-weakest" brand which we are sponsoring today by the "Atlantic Charter". At least, this is what Stalin is today telling Cordell Hull and Anthony Eden.
Religion will also be a determining factor in bringing about world peace. Yet, we hear very little about religion today in the council of nations. In short, the nation or race which has the best religion will, in the end, come out "top dog". This, however, will be the religion which teaches its followers that good land, good children and good brains, as well as good character, are the assets worthwhile. Money, planes, tanks and battleships will not save America. The only way we can hold down the Japs is by raising more and better children than they do.
When Selecting Investments
The curse of the democracies is the desire for an "easy life" combined with so-called "security". Yet these two things never went well together and never will. Britain cannot survive living on dominated colonies; nor can the United States

Physical Education Teacher Resigns

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 29.—Mrs. Wilana Lorimer Taylor, Westminster College's physical education instructor for women since 1940, resigned this week. Mrs. Taylor left the campus Tuesday to join her husband, Sgt. Glenn Taylor, former speech professor, who is now teaching in a signal corps school at Fort Monmouth, N. J.
Replacing Mrs. Taylor as physical instructor is Mrs. James Gahagen, a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh. She will also serve as residence director at Elliott house, one of the college women's dormitories.

County Trio Wins Lamb Show Awards

Plaingrove Township Family Represented At Annual Exhibit In Pittsburgh
Lawrence county was represented at the annual Lamb Club Round-Up in Pittsburgh, by Madge, Donna and John Neely, of Plaingrove, members of the 4-H Lamb Club of Plaingrove.
Each showed a pen of lambs. Madge and John winning third and fourth prizes in the championship pen exhibition. Grand champion pen went to John Woods, of Mercer.
Although the number of exhibitors was smaller than usual, the quality was exceptionally high. L. C. Dayton, county agent, who attended, stated today.

BUREAU REPORTS BUSINESS BETTER

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 29.—(INS)—Trade showed more than the usual seasonal push, with mixed changes in a narrow range in the Pittsburgh district for the week ended October 23, the University of Pittsburgh's bureau of business research reported today.
The seasonally-adjusted general index of business activity was 172.9 percent of the 1935-39 average. For the week ended October 16 it was 170.0.

Coal shipments and production were off a little; diversified merchandise shipments fell slightly, while iron and steel shipments increased. Pittsburgh department stores sales were up 12 percent over the same week last year.

Reich Prisoner Assails Grippers

Says Americans Should Realize What Wounded War Prisoners Experience

A HOSPITAL IN CHESHIRE, England, Oct. 29.—(INS)—"I wish some of those people who are always griping back home could see what it means to be a prisoner with a lot of other wounded Americans."

That was the statement today of Staff Sergeant Milton Williams, of St. Louis, Mo., one-legged American who was imprisoned within the Reich for six-and-one-half months.

Williams, who is receiving medical treatment in Cheshire preliminary to being sent back to the United States, was a waist gunner in a plane shot down over Bremen April 17.

"We had men with legs off and men with arms off and with holes where an eye was," he said. "We had to make up combined of five men to share our food and attend our needs. Those with two legs ran errands for those who had only one. Those with two arms helped those who had none. Those who needed a certain kind of food got it from the others."

"You really learn to respect human rights in prison."

There never was much to eat for supper, Williams said, "but thanks to our combine we made out okay."

"We'd save scraps from lunch and at night the Germans would let us take the stuff down to the cellar and heat it on the steam pipes. They let us exercise as much as we could, and never deprived us of rations they had promised us."

Glad to be back?

"I sure am," Williams said. "I'm glad to be headed for home."

"But I keep thinking of the ones who didn't get exchanged."

"And I keep thinking some of those grippers back home."

Red Cross Here Thanked For Help

Lawrence county chapter of the American Red Cross has received a letter of thanks and appreciation for the splendid assistance rendered by the local Red Cross organization when a detail of men was sent to New Castle airport recently from the Civil Air Patrol in Pittsburgh in connection with the forced landing here of a large army plane.

At the time of the plane's landing and arrival of the army detail, Ralph F. Davis, Red Cross disaster chairman was called to the scene and services of the Canteen Corps were enlisted, according to announcement made at the chapter house.

Writer of the letter of thanks was Lt. E. Kenneth Long, of the Civil Air Patrol in Pittsburgh.

Battle For Judge In Butler County

BUTLER, Pa., Oct. 29.—Public interest in the outcome of next Tuesday's Butler county election today centered on the battle for judge.

Rival candidates for the 10-year tenure are Judge John H. Wilson, Democrat, and William B. Purvis, Republican. Both are seasoned campaigners in the field of politics.

As the race nears its climax, political leaders have accelerated their activities hoping for a big turnout of voters who appear to be shedding the apathy which has persisted since the September primaries.

GIVE GENEROUSLY NOW!

A world at war is a world of ever increasing suffering. 1943 has brought more and more demands for aid from the charities that you support when you cooperate with the Community War Chest Drive. In order to carry on their fine work, they are in imperative need of more funds. They ask you, at this one big drive period of the year, to show them that you are behind their efforts—DON'T LET THEM DOWN!

- Your contribution will help to ease the burdens of needy Americans here on the home front.
- Your contribution will help to care for the needs of our men and women in the service overseas.
- Your contribution will help to alleviate the suffering of the innocent victims of the War abroad.

Believe Slayer Of Cadet Nurse May Be Maniac

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Oct. 29.—(INS)—A swarthy young man who may be an escaped maniac, was sought by police today in the slaying of pretty, Lucille E. Lawrence, 19-year-old army nurse cadet.

The man was seen by James Creighton, Poughkeepsie resident standing beside the wall of Vassar hospital, near the spot where she was found cruelly beaten to death early Wednesday morning. He was described as being about 21 years old, and about five feet, nine inches tall.

This description, according to Police Chief George Leadbitter and District Attorney John R. Schwartz tallies with that of a mental patient who escaped last week from a parolee farm of the Syracuse State school.

Although a preliminary medical report indicated that the young nurse had not been raped, authorities pointed to the savagery of her attack, which might have been the work of a maniac. Her head had been beaten to a pulp. Fifteen cents and a $3.50 check were missing from her purse, but police doubted robbery could be the motive for such a vicious murder.

CAPT. GABLE'S UNCLE HONORED
SHARON, Pa., Oct. 29.—(INS)—Charles Gable, 85-year-old uncle of Capt. Clark Gable, former movie star, held the honor today of being named the most outstanding American Legion booster in Sharpsville for 1943.

Gable, who operates a motion picture theater, was honored by the Sharpsville American Legion Post.

SALVATION ARMY HOME

Every citizen of our community is familiar with the regular open air meetings of the Salvation Army. By carrying this service out to the street corner they are able to bring religion to some people who otherwise would never be reached.

But this open air service is not the only work accomplished by the Salvation Army. A review of their activities for the past year reveals the fact that on each day they performed some act of charity.

For instance, they assisted 134 families in our community with food, clothing, shoes, and furniture. They distributed 120 Christmas baskets thus providing cheer on this day of days. They, regularly, visit our Penal Institutions and comfort the inmates. They help to find work for the unemployed, particularly the physically handicapped.

Since the advent of war The Salvation Army adopted a new type of service. As soon as our local boys become established in camp they add their names to their mailing list. Then once each week they send out a news letter, keeping our local fighting men and women posted on community activities.

It is because of this wide and varied service to our city that your United War Fund and Community Chest, included them on their list of participating agencies and will provide a sum of $2,500 for the coming year.

District Banquet At Elks Club
Honors Well-Known Union
Township Resident

Long distance workers of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company at the company's local building and a party of officials from the western area gathered Thursday evening at the Elks club for a banquet honoring John D. Pattison who is retiring after slightly more than 20 years of service.

A lifelong resident of Union township, Mr. Pattison has been building and property maintenance man of the building on the Youngstown road responsible for its consistently fine and well-kept appearance.

Dinner was served at 7:30 with Walter Reneker acting as toastmaster. Fred Bussey and Charles Vogt were in charge of arrangements.

District plant superintendent S. L.

Gieble, of Pittsburgh, and members of his staff were among the out-of-town guests present.

After the banquet the party traveled to Mr. Pattison's home on West State street where he, with whom dairy cattle are a hobby, was happily surprised to be presented with a thoroughbred Jersey heifer as a retirement gift.

Grill Ex-Convict
In Double Murder

Texas Rangers Investigate Dual Crime In Littlefield,
Texas

LUBBOCK, Tex., Oct. 29.—(INS)—A suave, well-dressed ex-convict bank robber, arrested in Galveston, Tex., was grilled by Texas Rangers and other peace enforcement officers today in the bedroom murders of Dr. and Mrs. Roy Hunt in their Littlefield, Tex., home.

He is James C. Thomas, 49, who was out on parole from Huntsville penitentiary where he was sentenced to serve five years on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

Thomas, attired in a well-tailored gray business suit and having the appearance of a successful business or professional man, was brought manacled to Lubbock last night by Texas Rangers.

No immediate charge was placed against him except as a parole violator.

Dr. Hunt, prominent Littlefield surgeon and operator of a hospital there, was shot to death, and his wife, a former nurse, was bludgeoned and perhaps chloroformed early last Tuesday morning.

Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Newton of Cameron, Tex., who were indicted in a former shooting of Dr. Hunt a year and a half ago, both have told investigators they were at their home in Cameron, 445 miles from Littlefield, last Monday and Tuesday.

Newton was convicted of assault to commit murder in the former shooting and sentenced to seven years imprisonment. He now is free on an appeal bond.

CLAIMS MAN WALKS
AGAINST CAR; INJURED

Russell B. Proctor of Elizabeth street reported to police at 5:50 p. m. Thursday that a man who gave the name of William Walsh, age 30 walked against his car, was knocked down and received injuries of the head and hand. Proctor took the man to a nearby doctor's office.

The accident occurred in North Jefferson street, south of Falls street.

FATHER AND DAUGHTER
ARE KILLED BY AUTO

ALTOONA, Pa., Oct. 29.—(INS)—Pennsylvania State police today began an investigation into the deaths of Simon Layton, 60, and his daughter, Wanetta, 18, killed in a high-way accident last night about five miles north of Everett.

James Greenwalt, 16, also of Everett, a passenger in the car which struck the father and daughter, suffered a fractured skull when the driver brought the car to a sudden stop.

The driver of the vehicle, Richard L. Riley, 17, of Everett, told police that Layton and the girl apparently were talking to another motorist when the accident occurred.

War Prisoners Tell Of Germany

Repatriated Americans Say
German Morale Is Now
Cracking

BOMBINGS HAVE CAUSED BIG LOSS

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Oct. 20. — Further stories of American soldiers recently repatriated from prisoner of war camps in the Reich were released today by British censorship. The Americans' disembarked Tuesday at Liverpool from the steamer Atlantis, after having been exchanged through Swedish and Red Cross intervention for wounded German prisoners. Pfc. Herbert Ehrlich of Brooklyn, N. Y., wounded and made prisoner in Sicily, said German home morale was cracking and described treatment of Allied prisoners in Nazi hospitals. "I guess if it weren't for the Red Cross we'd have starved to death," he declared. "All the Germans had for us were spuds, spuds and more spuds, and soup which was mostly water. "All the Germans I met were pessimistic about the war. In Naples I had a chance to talk to German soldiers just returned from the front, and they all felt the German army would be licked before February." T-Sgt. Norman C. Goodwin of Bradford, Mass., said he had a chance to see part of Hamburg as their train passed through. "It's flat for miles and miles," he declared. "It's just a shambles—blocks and blocks of just nothing." Private Loery Keith of Denver, Pa., said he saw parts of Augsburg and Berlin. "Both had been very badly bombed as far as I could see," he said.

Limiting the quantity of steel used in bed springs is resulting in an annual saving in steel sufficient to meet the steel requirements for 88 Liberty ships.

Hunters Asked To Safeguard Wires

Telephone Company Urges
Caution As Wartime Measure
During Hunting Season

With the opening of the hunting season on Saturday, the Bell Telephone Company asked prospective hunters to safeguard telephone wires and cables when gunning for small game. Shot fired into a wire or cable will frequently cause service interruptions and may make it necessary for a section of the line to be replaced, the company said. If the wire is not broken, often the insulation is damaged, resulting in trouble later when moisture seeping causes a short circuit. The company pointed out that a casual shot at a bird on a wire might result in the interruption of an important long distance call or might isolate a nearby farmer who depends on the telephone for his communication. Materials needed for war production would also have to be used by repairmen in order to put the lines back in service.

Fighting Ships Are Launched In Ohio River

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 20.—(INS)—Two Pittsburgh-built fighting ships, "LST 282" and "LST 286" were in the hands of navy combat crews ready to be taken into action after their spectacular launching on the Ohio river from Ambridge. About 50 guests aboard the American Bridge Company's tank landing ship, "LST 282" were given a battle thrill yesterday when the big boat actually made a crash landing on the Ohio shore below Aliquippa. Burning out of a fuse in the control room put the rudder out of control for a few minutes as the boat was completing its trial run.

'WORK OR JAIL' IS TOWN DECREE

MOULTRIE, Ga., Oct. 20.—(INS)—Work or go to jail will be the order of the day commencing next Monday in Moultrie. And it is going to be enforced. Chief of Police P. D. Bell declared today. The city has furnished each place of business in Moultrie—whether it be retail store or war factory—identification cards. Each person employed will be given one on which will be shown his working hours. "The job is then up to the law enforcement branch," Chief Bell said. "Police will stop any person found loitering and ask to see their employment cards. "If the card of the person stopped shows he or she should be working they will be marched off to the city jail and charged with loitering," he declared. "The order goes into effect Monday and includes all persons—Negro or white. They are going to work or go to jail in Moultrie," Bell said.

RABBITS HELPING IN WAR EFFORT GREATLY

MEDIA, Pa., Oct. 20.—(INS)—Even the floppy eared rabbits are going all-out for the war effort. Fine white rabbit fur is essential these days for linings of aviators' gloves and helmets, so the bunnies are contributing their coats to the fliers. Alfred Palmore of Bortondale, Pa., has raised 14 of the long-eared white rabbits as a hobby and has set his goal for 900. Their fur, of extremely fine texture, grows at the rate of about one inch a month, and the rabbits are clipped four times a year. It takes one of the little fellows 12 months to produce a pound of fur worth $10.

Palmore, a war worker, hopes to eventually devote all his time to the rabbit industry. His wife, Jean, runs a spinning wheel and is gradually learning to spin fine yarn from the rabbit fur. Seven-year-old Joan does her share by helping her mother at the spinning wheel.

BOY SCOUTS RECEIVE SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS

EASTON, Pa., Oct. 20.—(INS)—The establishment at Lafayette college of three scholarships to freshmen active in boy scout work today had been announced by President William Mathis Lewis. The grants were made by Frank Phillips, head of the Phillips Petroleum company and a trustee at Lafayette. Each of the scholarships this year is valued at $250. William Crittenden, director of admissions, reported that two of the scholarships have been awarded to William Striker of Lebanon, N. J., and Warren Jones of West Pittston, Pa.

NEWS AND VIEWS AT CAPITAL

HARRISBURG, Oct. 20.—(INS)—Officials in the Martin administration have lost little time in hammering away at the New Deal charging centralization of government. . . . Paced by Gov. Edward Martin, who has delivered more than 50 speeches since his inauguration in January, they usually echo the chief executive's remarks in emphasizing the advantages of local government. . . . Latest to jump in the ring was Mark S. James, director of the post-war planning commission. . . . James stated that "one way to preserve the American way of life in the post-war era is to maintain the rights of state."

The private dining room provided in the new cafeteria for state officials rarely is used by any of Gov. Edward Martin's cabinet. . . . Only a few minor state officials make use of its advantages. . . . Shortly issued by the bureau of highway safety in the revenue department disclosed that the safest counties for both pedestrians and motorists were Potter and Sullivan. . . . In 1942 there were no highway fatalities in the two counties, the report disclosed. . . . There were no pedestrian deaths for the 20-month period in Potter, Cameron, Forest and Pike counties. . . . On the other hand, Tioga, Union, Montour, Center, Franklin and McKean counties were free of pedestrian fatalities during 1943. . . . The report also disclosed that the increasing popularity of bicycles since gasoline has been rationed was reflected in the fact that 11 riders were killed during the first eight months of the year as compared with three for all of 1942.

The department of public instruction has sought the cooperation of the Pennsylvania aeronautics commission in providing link trainer instruction for most of the 400 teachers of pre-flight aeronavics in Pennsylvania. . . . Pointing out that war time demands upon civilian instructors made it improbable that they would be able to provide training, the department said arrangements had been made for trainer instruction because it was necessary that teachers maintain the respect of students. Link trainers simulate every activity of airplanes in flight without leaving the ground. . . . "On the basis of this experience," the department stated, "we hope to plan short courses, excluding actual flight instruction, appropriate for teachers who have had previous training in aeronautics as well as for those who are beginning their teaching duties without special training."

One hundred horses that took part in the filming of the Battle of Agincourt during production of a motion picture at Powerscourt, Eire, were quickly sold in gasoline-short Dublin.

Philadelphia To Name Mayor

Relatively Light Vote Is Indicated Despite Battle Being Waged

LAST PRE-ELECTION BLASTS ARE HURLED

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—Despite the worst mud-slinging mayoralty campaign since the Republicans gained control of the Quaker City 62 years ago, both GOP and Democratic leaders predicted today that war-time apathy might result in a relatively light balloting next Tuesday.

In his latest blast, John B. Kelly, Democratic campaign manager for William C. Bullitt, charged the Republicans with macing municipal workers, intimidating small storekeepers, permitting gamblers to operate in exchange for fees, and attempting to bribe Democratic committeemen.

Police, firemen and park guards virtually were compelled to contribute two days' wages to the GOP fund, Kelly asserted. Meanwhile, David W. Harris, Republican city chairman, warned of an alleged attempt to "steal" the election from Acting Mayor Bernard Samuel through connivance of the Democratic-controlled board of county commissioners.

"Efforts are being made to enlist the aid of federal workers and have them palm themselves off on unsuspecting voters as U. S. officials for purposes of intimidation," Harris asserted.

BRIEF NEWS OVER STATE

JOHNSTOWN—Police have terminated the career of a 16-year-old "batman" who posed as a comic strip character and frightened children with the aid of a home made costume.

Authorities found out the youth had been expelled from a boy's club. He was released after his parents destroyed the costume.

PITTSBURGH—Attorney Louis A. Barmen has an office on the 13th floor of a Pittsburgh building but he isn't safe from bullets.

Barmen was in court when a high powered bullet crashed through his office window, and ricocheted off a chair to the floor. Police theorized that the bullet was fired by a high-powered rifle at a great distance and had arched through the window.

PITTSBURGH—Employees at "the Fort Pitt Bedding Co. in Pittsburgh held a wake for a 'dead man' to make a 'live issue'.

The deceased was a machine, used in the manufacture of gun parts, which stopped because of overwork. Employees decorated the "body" with slogan cards which read: "War bonds would have saved him," "We must avenge this death," and "War worker asleep."

HARRISBURG—After some global measuring, the state planning board has come up with the following facts:

Pennsylvania is due south of the east shore of the Hudson Bay and north of the western border of Venezuela, east of Japan, and west of Constantinople.

ELIZABETH — Jesse Stevenson, Elizabeth farmer, could hardly believe that the 75-pound pig he recovered was once his 300-pound handsome porker all ready for market.

Stevenson thought the pig had been stolen from him, but it was found in an 18-foot pit where it had existed for 90 days on weeds, coal and dirt.

PHILADELPHIA—The manpower shortage has become so acute in the Philadelphia Transportation company that officials have offered a $10 reward "to any employee obtaining a new worker who stays in service at least 30 days."

PITTSBURGH—The Phil-Pitt Eagles hold the first new record of the new gridiron championship battle. It was made when the Eagles fumbled 10 times in their recent 28-14 victory over the New York Giants.

The previous high of eight fumbles for one team in a game was set in 1937 by Washington, playing Pittsburgh, and later was tied by five other teams.

WORKMAN INJURED
John L. Cook, aged 25 years, of R. F. D. No. 3, Pulaski, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 8:30 p. m., Thursday, for a laceration of the tip of the left middle finger, received when a piece of steel fell on his finger while at work.

GIRL SPRAINS ANKLE
Marilyn Howell, aged 7 years, of 74 East Wallace avenue, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 6 o'clock, Thursday evening, for a sprained left ankle, sustained when she turned her ankle while running.

DIVORCE REFUSED

In an opinion handed down Thursday by Judge W. Walter Braham, the divorce application filed by Gardner C. Cooper against Melissa Nixon Cooper is refused upon the grounds that the libellant failed to establish his grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment.

The couple was married December 3, 1902 and lived together until 1917. The testimony shows that the libellant left his family and the court held the view that a man who leaves his family leaves the suspicion that he has little regard for them. The costs are placed upon the libellant.

FRUIT DEALERS GIVE HOSPITALS PRIORITIES

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 29.—(INS)—Fruit dealers today were enforcing their own priority regulation in determining that Pittsburgh district hospitals shall get oranges first during the existing shortage.

For the last six weeks the hospitals have had difficulty getting enough oranges for their patients, because distribution has been on a "finders-keepers" basis.

British railroads run 4,000 special troop trains and 28,000 extra workers' trains every month, despite labor shortages, bombing and black-out. Over 90,000 railroad men have been released to the forces, and 60,000 women who have been taken on perform almost every railroad task, except that of driving the trains.

SEVENTH WARDGrand Auxiliary District Meeting

Members of the local lodge of the Grand International Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, were hosts on Thursday to the Union Pittsburgh District meeting of the organization.

The sessions of the day commenced at 10:30, and were held at the Odd Fellows Hall, East Washington street.

The ritual work was exemplified by the New Castle lodge officers. At noon, 76 members enjoyed a delicious dinner, served by the Rebekah Ladies, in their dining room.

Grand Organizer Inspectors Mrs. Harry Keenon of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. William O'Neill of Canton, O., attended the meeting.

There were nine lodges represented from the various lodges of the Pittsburgh district, also Canton, Warren and Youngstown, O.

The door prize was won by Mrs. C. V. Hasler, of Freedom, and Mrs. John Ridley of this city, was awarded the Battle Drill prize.

Pink roses and blue Drills were presented to the officers by the local president, Mrs. C. A. Probst, in honor of her five sons in the U. S. armed forces.

The committee in charge of arrangements was Mrs. J. T. Clark, Mrs. H. A. Leighty, Mrs. R. C. Dalley, Mrs. Robert Peterson, Mrs. Jack McCort, Mrs. J. H. McIlvenny, Mrs. R. A. Franklin and Mrs. C. A. Probst.

Next local regular meeting of the G. I. A. will be on November 11, at 1:30 p. m., at the Y. M. C. A.

HONOR ROLL CABINET HAS BEEN SHIPPED

News of the shipping of the Honor Roll Cabinet for the names of men in the armed forces from the ward, has been received by Robert M. Barnes, secretary of the Seventh Ward Civic Club, and delivery is expected at any moment.

The committee who will be in charge of the dedicatory services of the cabinet is Rev. Warren A. Bugbee, pastor of the Mahoning Methodist church, chairman; Dr. John Orr, acting pastor of Mahoningtown Presbyterian; Rev. Clyde Roland of the Madison Avenue Christian church; Rev. Fr. James Kernan, of St. Margaret's; Rev. Fr. Sebastian Ippolito, of St. Lucy's.

Efforts are being made by the committee to secure the presence at the service of U. S. army chaplains, Rev. John E. Meyers Jr., former pastor of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, and Rev. Fr. Michael P. Hinnebusch, former pastor of St. Margaret's church.

SENTINELS PLAN DINNER

Mrs. Anna Senheiser, president of the Mahoningtown Sentinels, announces that plans are complete for the spaghetti dinner to be given on Wednesday evening at St. Margaret's hall, North Liberty street, with proceeds for the benefit of local civilian defense.

The committee is Mrs. Gladys Hackett, Mrs. Helen Welsh, Mrs. Nancy Thayer, Mrs. Rose Zarilla, Mrs. A. Masters, Mrs. Rose Diana, John Porter.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Mrs. O. H. Kincaid and family of North Liberty street, have returned after visiting for a few days with the former's sister at Coraopolis.

The first army clothing factory in the Middle East, near a large city in Egypt, which started in 1941 with 10 machines and 39 employees, now has 276 power machines and 1300 workers, who produce 100,000 garments a month.

Freighter Carries Service Record

Sports Three Swastikas For Shooting Down Three Attacking Planes

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—(INS)—She sports three swastikas on her stack and they call her "The Battleship," but actually she is only a 10,000-ton Liberty-type freighter.

The story behind her service bars and honorable nickname was told today at an East Coast port where she's being loaded with another cargo for the war zone.

Both were earned last March when her Navy gun crew shot down three of nine attacking Nazi JU-88 torpedo bombers during a 35-minute battle in the Mediterranean. In addition, she was credited with assisting an accompanying British Corvette in the destruction of another of the bombers.

And it was the astonished crew of the Corvette that named her "The Battleship." In port a few days after the battle, the British sailors said:

"We've never seen such a barrage from a merchantman. You must be sailing a disguised battleship."

Since then, the freighter has weathered a submarine attack and three other air raids. Members of her crew credit skillful maneuvering of Capt. Hans Muller of Houston, Tex., with bringing her through all encounters without damage to the ship or its personnel.

Ensign J. F. Woodward of Salt Lake City, now assigned to other duty, was in charge of the gunners who brought down the three German torpedo planes. The gunners included:

Ennis Quinn, 21, of Milledgeville, Ga., who bagged one of the planes; Glenn Pringle, 21, Oskaloosa, Ia.; William C. Watson, Detroit, and Marshall S. Sells, Landis, N. C.

Housewives of Portugal have been told that grape juice can be used for every purpose for which sugar is used, and are to be given free instruction on how to get such results.

What a mess we'll have when the Allies try to decide which pulled what off of whom.

HOOVER ASSAILS POSTWAR TIEUPS FOR UNITED STATES

Former President Lashes Out Anew At Postwar Military Alliances

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 29.—(INS)—Former President Herbert Hoover lashed out anew today at postwar military alliances, and insisted that if the United States is to realize its one great interest in this war—lasting peace—it must avoid international tieups and retain its full sovereignty and independence.

Such an attitude, Hoover declared in a nationwide broadcast, is not selfish, since it is the same determination that motivates all of the leading powers of the United Nations. Many, he said, "have already proclaimed nationalistic objectives for which they are fighting."

Postwar alliance, he told the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce and associated civic organizations, are barbed wires of war and are inimical to enduring peace. He particularly attacked the proposed British-American tieup for postwar security.

"There is a fatal defect of all military alliances as an instrument to preserve peace," the former president declared. "They at once begin to fall apart under the chafing of peoples against the danger of being involved in war. Inevitably world currents change, a new generation arises, and some ally concludes not to go to war despite any agreement. Military alliances never endure for long."

However, in assailing the idea of a legal pact with Britain in the future, asked "will not such a marriage involve us in all the problems of the British empire, and conversely, will not the British empire be plagued with all the problems of the United States?"

He pointed out too that such an alliance probably would raise fear that it is a step toward world mastery by the English-speaking race and thus would generate opposition among the other 90 per cent of the population.

Collaboration between the United States and Great Britain is a prime necessity for peace, he admitted, but "collaboration does not require amalgamation."

Brazil, which perhaps has gone further than any other country in discovering gasoline substitutes, has produced a mixture running as high as 90 per cent alcohol and 10 per cent gasoline, which is now in general use there.

ADMIRAL COMMENDS WORK OF SHIPBUILDERS

AMBRIDGE, Pa., Oct. 29.—(INS)—Tank landing ship construction at the American Bridge company shipyard is 25 per cent ahead of expectations, with the rate still rising today, Admiral E. L. Cochrane of the U. S. navy has telegraphed the company and workers.

Cochrane, chief of the bureau of ships, commended the 10,000 men and women shipbuilders, saying: "This accelerated production and the integrity of your ships will assure early establishment of necessary bridgeheads with a minimum of casualties."

ROGATICA CAPTURED

LONDON, Oct. 29.—(INS)—The 27th division of the Yugoslav army of liberation today was revealed to have captured Rogatica on the Drina river in eastern Bosnia.

The free Yugoslav communists said 100 Germans were killed in the operation.

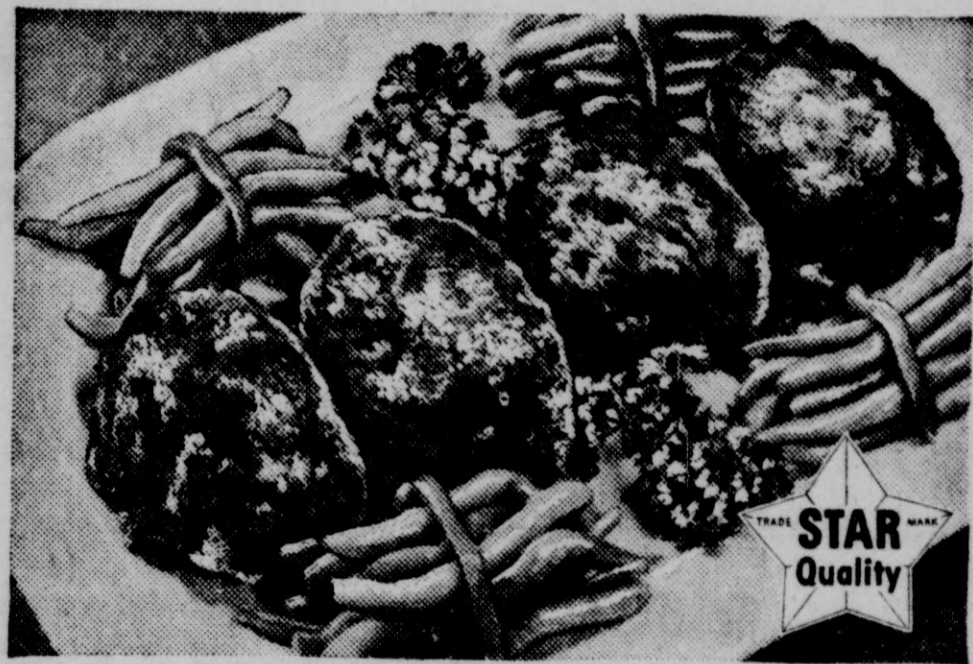

Middle East To Hold Many Problems

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—(INS)—The middle east holds more perplexing problems for peace than the ever-erupting Balkans, Archbishop Francis J. Spellman of New York warned today.

In an article in Colliers Weekly the archbishop telling of his travels through the east comments: "Injustice, poverty, disease and squalor are increasing and spreading in many ways. Cruelty is becoming normal, and sadism is a virulent and as contagious to the mind as typhus is to the body."

The Catholic prelate condemned the "balance of power" theory as a solution to war and added: "It would certainly be a mighty advance if human beings could regard other human beings, not as pawns in a game, but as individuals with sacred rights to life and liberty."

Armour Ideas Make the Most of Meat

Quick, Individual Barbecued Meat Loaves

Cut your baking time in half tonight by making individual barbecued meat loaves instead of one big meat loaf! It takes only 1½ pounds of ground beef to make 8 of them... and everyone gets the cherished crust! Beef chuck is a good juicy cut to use for meat loaves—and you can count on good flavor and high food value if you get Armour's. For the Armour brand is an unfailing sign of choice quality in beef.

Mix ½ cup fine dry bread crumbs with ½ cup Armour's Evaporated Milk and season with 2 tps. salt, ¼ tsp. pepper. To this add 1½ lbs. ground Armour's branded beef chuck, ½ lb. ground lean pork, 2 tps. chopped onion and blend well. Shape into 8 individual meat loaves and place in a shallow pan. Use half of these per portion for 4 loaves.

Over them pour barbecue sauce you make this way: Heat together ½ cup catsup, ½ cup vinegar, 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce, 1 tsp. chili powder and 2 tps. chopped onion. Bake 45 min. at 350° F., basting once or twice.

SERVICENTER TO OPEN TONIGHT

Program To Be Presented At New Wilmington Center For Service Men

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 29.—Climaxing more than two months of preliminary planning and intensive preparation on the part of Westminster college and the local community, the New Wilmington servicenter will open its doors for the first time at 7:30 tonight.

Cadet entertainment will be the feature of the open house. It will include an inspection of all the facilities of the center, plus a variety show consisting of musical selections, comedy acts, a special magic show by a professional entertainer, and dancing for all.

Members of the committee in charge of the servicenter have emphasized that there will be no long speeches at the opening night's program. "The center is for the servicemen and we want them to plan their programs and arrange their own shows. Most of our work is completed and the rest is up to them and the community and college hostesses from now on," one member commented.

By special permission of the commanding officers, the 300 ASTP cadets and 100 naval aviation cadets will attend, en masse. Ordinarily, cadets do not have late permission on Friday nights. Townspeople and college students are expected to fill the entire first floor of the building.

Formerly the Wyatt hotel, the building has been acquired by the college. Only the first floor will be used for the servicenter. A large ballroom, lounge, card room, game room and a basement canteen will be available.

The center will be open from 1 p. m. until midnight on Saturdays and from 1:30 to 5:30 p. m. on Sunday afternoons. Town girls and sorority girls will work together as hostesses, cooperating with representatives of the army students and naval cadets in planning entertainments. Saturday night's program will be in charge of Ruth Galbreath of Sigma Kappa sorority and Mary Kissick for the town.

After the opening night, the servicenter will be open only to servicemen and college students with activity cards. Cadets or local soldiers home on furlough who intend to bring out-of-town girls to the center as their guests, must first apply to their commanding officer or to the committee for a guest card.

SERGT. ISAAC, FLYING HERO, HERE ON VISIT

In the hospital. It credited with one certain plane shot down and several probables, and for two months was one of the crew that flew General Sir Bernard L. Montgomery on his flying visits to various points of the battle area.

Many Decorations For his gallantry and for the many bombing missions in which he served Sergeant Isaac has been decorated with the Distinguished Flying Cross, the air medal with nine oak leaf clusters and the Silver Star. He has also been awarded the Purple Heart for being wounded.

Perhaps his most interesting bombing mission was the one over Rome. "We flew high and didn't have much time for sightseeing," said the sergeant, "but I did get a look at the Vatican and I remember I was interested in noticing how curved the Tiber river is."

As to his work as a gunner he says little or nothing. Twice his plane limped in badly shot up and in the mission over Tunis he was badly hit in the side. This laid him in the hospital for over three months.

But if he doesn't talk much about the exploits with the 50 calibre machine gun he talks at length about General Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, head of Britain's famed eighth army. "What a man he is," said Sergeant Isaac. "We flew him over Africa and Egypt and on one trip we flew him to London. Every time we stopped in a city he first saw that the crew had comfortable quarters before he thought of himself. He is an amazing man, courageous and kind and is every inch the hero the newspapers have painted him."

Sergeant Isaac is in New Castle only until Monday. He will leave then for Texas to see his mother Mrs. Rachel Isaac, who now lives there, and from the tone of the conversation we gathered there is a certain young lady he is more than slightly interested in seeing. From Texas he will go on to Salt Lake City, Utah, where he has been assigned.

At noon Sunday there will be a dinner in his honor in the building on Howard way formerly occupied by St. John's church.

CITY TREASURER'S OFFICE WILL BE OPEN TO 3 P. M. SATURDAY City treasurer B. N. Hanlon announced this afternoon that as a matter of convenience to the public the treasurer's office would be kept open until 3 o'clock, Saturday afternoon. The office usually closes at noon on Saturday.

U. S. WARSHIPS ARE THROWN INTO BATTLE IN ROME CAMPAIGN

capture Montefalcone, on the south bank of the Trigno river about 10 miles north of occupied Civita Campomarano. The eighth also captured Molise mountain.

American troops sloshed forward three miles in the center of the fifth army front though pouring rain to capture an important height. American units seriously threatened the Nazi-held stronghold of Teano, at the western end of the enemy defense line north of captured Montefalcone.

Four important roads converge in the Teano area and the Nazis fought back bitterly against the advancing Americans who ousted them from dominating ground in the Teano region.

Further Progress

"Further progress has been made on the fifth army front where another important height has been captured," said the communique relating to ground action.

"Fighting continues on the eighth army front and additional short advances have been made by British and Canadian troops. Montefalcone has been captured."

"Heavy rain has fallen in most of the operational sectors."

Allied fighter-bombers pounded bridges and roads north of Capua and attacked airfields near Orvieto and Littoria where they damaged parked aircraft.

American invaders strafed the airbase near Foligno, 60 miles north of Rome.

Two formations of 15 German fighters each were engaged in the air by the allied craft which destroyed two Messerschmitt 109's. None of the allied craft was lost.

Nazi positions in the battle area also were hammered in addition to the assaults on road junctions, trains and bridges.

Hampered By Mud

The fifth army appeared hampered at its advance resulting from the rain and its advance in heavy fighting was slow.

At the easternmost end of the eighth army front the British attacked the Germans aggressively from their Trigno river bridgehead. The Nazis still clung to San Salvo, southwest of the bridgehead, and much bitter resistance was encountered as the Germans attempted to stall British efforts to widen the bridgehead.

The advance into Montefalcone came after a three-mile advance at the lower end of the eighth army front. Montefalcone fell at the end of a fairly heavy battle in pouring rain. The eighth also advanced one mile west of captured Torella and in a day-long battle seized the 2,000-foot Molise mountain peak.

A Rome radio report quoted by the London News Chronicle said the allies had opened up a new general offensive in Italy.

(Radio Algiers said meanwhile that "a great battle on the Italian front seems imminent.")

(The British radio quoted a correspondent in the Mediterranean area as reporting that allied naval units shelled the port of Gaeta, on the west coast of Italy 30 miles north of Naples. The targets, he said, were troop concentrations and transport columns.)

Hardest Blows

Hardest blows by the allies continued to be struck at the center of the 90-mile line stretching east to west across the Italian peninsula.

The British eighth army scored the longest gain by pressing northward from the Campobasso sector to occupy Torella. The goal of these forces under command of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery was Isernia, vital rail and road junction in the center of lower Italy.

Military along the eastern half of the front, the Britons also gained control of two more towns, Mafalda and Castemau, while on the west fifth army units sent a spearhead northward to enter Riardo.

Front reports indicated that the Germans were offering sterner oppositions all along the front as the fifth and eighth armies smashed closer to the newly-established defense line thrown up by the enemy in rugged country to hold off the drive on Rome as long as possible.

The Nazis were unable, however, to prevent the American and British troops from driving sharp salients close to the Mandragone-Vasto line.

In addition to the stubborn rear-guard fighting the Germans began employing more and more field and medium artillery in the hope of stemming the allied progress.

Allied aircraft countered these tactics by ranging over the battle area to loose repeated sorties against the Nazi gun positions and prepare the way for further American and British thrusts.

Artillery action was particularly heavy on the eighth army front, especially at the Adriatic end of the line where the Germans sought in vain to hamper engineering building additional bridges across the Trigno river for reinforcement of the British bridgehead on the north side.

Ten Nationalities Join In Bond Booth Party At Y.W.C.A.

Seventy saleswomen and girls of ten different nationalities who served in war bond booths in the recent drive were guests of the International Institute committee of the Y. W. C. A. Thursday evening in the new lounge of the Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. Elder Bryan and Mrs. Walter Reneker, co-chairmen of the committee, greeted the guests after which Mrs. James W. Moorehead led singing of folk songs and Mrs. Thelma Stewart, of the Elm street Y. W. C. A. branch, and Miss Mary Tabisz, new International Institute secretary, led the large circle in games.

Each nationality present participated in the program. Under Chairman Mrs. Akelia Chienyavski the Russian group sang two songs, and Mrs. Frances Billyk, who is a Radio City entertainer, danced a Russian gypsy dance.

Mrs. Julius Cobb read "A Soldier's Home" by Mrs. Scott Hamilton. Miss Helen Papazikas and Miss Alice Mitsos each sang a Greek song.

Beautiful Italian cutwork embroidery was exhibited by Mrs. Lucy Gizzi and Miss Frances Del Signore. A humorous poem dedicated to "A Bald-Headed Man" was read by Mrs. Frances Cope.

An original solo by Mrs. Jennie Abraham was given by her in Syrian. Mrs. Mary Joseph, Mrs. Anna Joseph, and Miss Louise Tony asked for the assistance of all to make it a success. Father Lappan mentioned the fact that with delinquency one also finds spiritual delinquency but with the aid of the parish priests and the conference the situation can be checked.

The Rev. Fr. Francis C. Streiff, pastor of St. Joseph's church, gave the opening prayer of the meeting, and Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, pastor of St. Vitus church, closed the meeting with prayers.

James Carey, president of the organization, presided and thanked all for their co-operation. Reports from the secretary, Margaret Valley, and treasurer, Clare Duff, were heard at this meeting. An excellent account of the work to date accomplished by the conference was given by the social worker, Mrs. William B. Howley.

The close of the session the Most Rev. Bishop Hugh C. Boyle, D. D. pronounced his blessing upon the assembly.

All parishes of Lawrence county took part in the meeting, and prior to the session 22 priests of the parish churches of the county enjoyed a delicious dinner at The Castleton.

EASY ON SUGAR AND SHORTENING

Here's a flavorful a coffee cake as ever smiled up from a plate. Try it. Try any good recipe, using Pillsbury's Best. Get better baking results than with any other all-purpose flour or Pillsbury's Cooking Service, Minneapolis, gives you back the cost of all your recipe ingredients. That's GUARANTEED BAKING. With what flour could you be more sure?

Pillsbury's HONEY-SPICE SLICES

Fill 9x5x3-inch pan. Time: about 35 to 40 minutes

- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 3/4 teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons shortening
- 1/2 cup milk, scalded
- 1 cake compressed yeast or 1 package granular yeast
- 1/4 cup lukewarm water
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 3 cups sifted Pillsbury's Best Enriched Flour
- 2 tablespoons butter, melted
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 3/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 2 tablespoons strained honey
- 1 1/2 teaspoons butter, melted

1. Add sugar, salt, and shortening to cooled milk. 2. Soften yeast in lukewarm water; add to milk mixture. Add egg. 3. Stir flour once; measure. Add to yeast mixture in two portions, mixing well. 4. Knead about 5 minutes on lightly-floured board until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl. Cover and allow to rise in a warm place (80° to 85° F.) until double in bulk (about 1 1/2 hours). 5. Roll out in 20x8-inch rectangle. Spread with 2 tablespoons melted butter. Sprinkle with combined sugar and cinnamon. Cut dough into twenty 4x2-inch strips. 6. Form into loaf by placing strips in well-greased loaf pan, arranging them so sugar-coated surface is next to plain surface. Cover and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk (about 1 1/2 hours). 7. Combine honey and remaining 1 1/2 teaspoons butter. Drip over top of dough evenly.

8. Bake in hot oven. And there you are... your coffee cake looks like a million, tastes like a million. To serve, just break off the slices, each packed with stepped-up, wartime nourishment of Pillsbury's Best.

Unearth Fossils In Excavating For Cellar Here

Curious Looking Specimens Are Found In Area On Dickson Street

In excavating the ground to make a cellar beneath their home, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McBride of 206 Dickson street and her brother, George Shellenberger of Midland, Pa., have unearthed some curious looking specimens of petrified trees, roots and ferns that indicate same are fossils of the Pennsylvanian period.

As far as can be determined by authorities, the fossils have lived as much as 280 millions of years ago! There is a belief that there may be some petrified bones of animals included in the objects unearthed, this fact yet to be confirmed.

However, the plant fossils show by the distinct, though thin layer of coal on some surfaces—the most being casts of the cavities left when the plant slowly decayed, that the spaces were later filled with other sediments by percolating water in the rock.

Dr. B. E. Quick of the department of botany, Westminster college, states that the plant was in all probability either "Lepidodendron" or "Sigillaria," though it is not exactly like many specimens of either. The outer bark is decayed and indentations seemingly represent either forms of leaf-traces or places where the veins sprouted from the stem to go into the leaves. The Lepidodendron is a relative of the modern "club moss," a small plant with creeping stem ranging about three feet, and not over one-quarter inch in stem thickness.

Mrs. McBride states many students interested in biology have stopped by to see the curious petrified formations. By the time the cellar is completely dug, it is hoped that the answer pertaining to a possibility of there having been at one time roaming animal life of prehistoric nature in this area will be completely solved. Other biology authorities are also interested, and within a short time it is expected they will make a trip here to give their analysis.

GOVERNOR PREDICTS SMALL VOTE TUESDAY

HARRISBURG, Oct. 29.—Prospects of a "pretty small" vote in next Tuesday's general election were seen today by Governor Martin.

"The rail is going to make it hard for the rural folks to get out," the executive declared at a press conference.

Reiterating a prediction Republican candidates will win in 50 counties, Martin said "that means we can't afford to stomp our toe any place."

As to the Philadelphia campaign in which he has strongly supported Acting Mayor Bernard Samuel for re-election, the governor declared: "They've got that won."

VARIOUS MEETINGS OF CHURCH GROUPS

Sunday School Classes And Mission Societies Have Thursday Sessions

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 29.—Among the various meetings held Thursday by church groups were: Loyal-Progressive Class
Mrs. Herbert Newton, Fountain avenue, was agreeably surprised when members of the Loyal-Progressive class of the First Christian church gathered to celebrate her birthday anniversary. Mrs. Newton is teacher of the class.
The group of 24 enjoyed a variety of games after which delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. Newton was given an array of pretty handkerchiefs.
Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. John Schrock, Mrs. Harry Vance, Mrs. Rose Belles and Mrs. Hilda Cable.

Ladies Aid
Ladies Aid society members gathered at the First U. P. church with Mrs. W. E. Minter leading devotions and Mrs. Charles Brandt in charge of business.
Time was devoted to quilting with a tempting lunch being served by Mrs. Minter and Mrs. Anna Wilson.

Christian W. M. S.
Mrs. Lowell W. Monroe opened her home in Forest Hills to associates of the United Methodist society of the First Christian church.
The topic, "Americanization," was given by Mrs. Edgar Saum with articles being read by Mrs. Nettie Makepeace and Mrs. H. M. Patton. Plans were made to send a box to the Hazel Green school in Kentucky.
Featuring the evening was a hankie-shower for Mrs. Patton who is leaving soon to make her home in Girard, O.
Mrs. Earl Sarver aided in serving an appealing lunch.

Methodist Women
The Women's societies of Christian Service of the First and Wurttemberg Methodist churches met jointly last night at the Ellwood church to celebrate the third anniversary of the organization of the united group.
After opening devotions by Mrs. Emory Neuman, Mrs. Harper and Mrs. Emmett Graham, Mrs. Frank Blaine conducted an impressive memorial service for departed members.
Mrs. Metcalfe, president of the Pittsburgh district, was the guest speaker and gave a most inspiring talk on the society work.

Mrs. J. W. Gladden was named chairman of the nominating committee of the Ellwood society.
Hostesses were Mrs. Paul Winter and Mrs. A. J. Musselman, and arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Elmer Greenham, Mrs. G. C. Denniston and Mrs. Robert McKim.

Ellwood Page Of The News To Be Discontinued

War Conditions Make Step Necessary Beginning With Issue Of November 1

Due to the many handicapping conditions that have developed as a result of the present gigantic war, including the reduction in supply of newsprint, manpower shortage in the plant, gasoline rationing difficulties, and many other factors, it has become necessary for The News to discontinue publication of the Ellwood City page as a daily feature of this newspaper, for the duration of the war.
With the issue of November 1 the discontinuance will be in effect.

While The News is obliged to discontinue city-wide coverage of Ellwood City news, it will be the aim to devote space in the columns of the paper for important Ellwood City news, and to take care of any contributions that may be submitted from Ellwood citizens or organizations for publication, in the future.

The News regrets development of conditions that make this step necessary, but it is another of the many difficulties growing out of the war that cannot be avoided at this time.

Virginia Paswell Weds Ernest Young

Ceremony Performed Thursday Morning At Purification B. V. M. Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 29.—The B. V. M. church was the scene of a lovely wedding on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock when Miss Virginia Paswell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Paswell, Franklin avenue, became the bride of Ernest Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Young of Hillsdale avenue.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. Joseph Perinat in the presence of many relatives and friends, a number coming from Beaver Falls, Ambridge and New Castle.

The bride wore a becoming blue, street length dress, with brown accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Miss Norman Young as maid of honor also wore a pretty blue frock with matching accessories and her flowers were yellow roses.
William DeNove was the best man.

A wedding dinner for thirty-five relatives and friends followed at the bride's home, and in the evening a reception was held.

Following a wedding trip, they will reside at Ellport. The bride is employed by the Nicholl Bakery and the bridegroom by the National Tube Co.

EAGLES AUXILIARY MEMBERS ASSEMBLE

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 29.—With the president, Mrs. Roy Welsh, in charge, Eagles Auxiliary members gathered last night at the hall.
Three new members were welcomed. Mrs. Alex Bunney was awarded the attendance prize. Plans were made to have a card party next Thursday night.

A social time followed with refreshments being served by Mrs. Frank Olzak, Mrs. Bunney and Mrs. Josephine Terraco.

Only one meeting, Thursday, November 18, will be held next month with Mrs. Thomas Lawrence, Mrs. John Greenham and Mrs. Joseph Raykovich in charge.

United War Fund Total Increases

Hope To Have Final Report From All Industries On Monday To End Drive

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 29.—The United War Fund totals reached the $16,050 mark today with only seven more days remaining in the campaign. Partial payments have only been made on three occasions by the National Tube company employee contribution and when a final report from that company is given the fund is expected to jump by leaps and bounds.

Smaller firms such as the United Tube, Ellwood Products Corp., Ellwood Stone Co., Cavert Wire Co., American Steel company, Jones Engineering company, Beaver Enameling company, and Ellwood Iron & Wire company are also expected to turn in a complete report by Monday of next week.

Local officials are hoping the good Ellwood City dollars will start rolling in fast these next few days so that the quota will be reached.

Ellwood City dollars will heal broken bodies, feed the hungry and shelter the homeless on all the United Nations fronts. They will provide hospitals, nursing homes, doctors and medicine here and abroad. They will bring cheer and home to the men in our armed forces through the splendid work of the U. S. O. They will give the barbed wire legion of war prisoners of all nations, a new lease on life. The Ellwood City United War Fund will help on the military front, the United Nations front, and the home front.

This year instead of giving many times to these different agencies, you give just once, so give generously.

SCOUT LEADERS ARE ORGANIZED

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 29.—Thirteen Girl Scout leaders representing ten troops met last night at the home of Miss Bessie Burrows, Fountain avenue.

The group was organized and planned to meet once each month to help each other with various problems. A discussion of ways and means of varying troop meetings took place, and planned games for the social part of meetings.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Helen Götjen; vice president, Bessie Burrows; secretary-treasurer, Doris Cooper; and corresponding secretary, Gertrude C. Anderson. November is the next meeting date.

Ellwood-Brighton Game On Saturday

Interest At High Pitch For Afternoon Contest Between Strong Teams

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 29.—Football interest is at a high pitch tonight in Ellwood as the Ellwood High Wolverines prepare to invade New Brighton on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 at the Oak Hill stadium. Both teams are in the fight for the Beaver Valley championship and the game promises to be one of the best of the year.

Howard B. Gills, assistant coach, has taken over the reins following head coach, Thurman F. Croft's Naval Reserve entrance this week as a lieutenant (j.g.). Gills has been the line coach under the Croft regime, and has been an invaluable assistant. He will finish the season as head mentor, and may have some assistance next week.

Gills is uncertain of the team's complete re-action to Croft's leaving. He believes they will either have a let-down or that they will play inspired ball as a tribute to Croft.

Fans and the coaching staff believe the Wolverines hit a high peak last week when they staked an upset to defeat the previously undefeated Aliquippa High eleven. While their touchdowns were scored following intercepted passes, they had the spark and drive to make the play count for two touchdowns.

In tomorrow's game, New Brighton will have a considerable edge in weight with two exceptionally big tackles power-housing their line. In the back field they have an unusually strong runner in Haddock, left half, and Rodovich is a powerful fullback. Brendt and Peluso are the other two backfield players and they have plenty of spark, Gills says.

The Oak Hillers, coached by George Roark, have lost to Rochester and Ambridge and were tied 13-13 by Leetsdale. They lost to Ambridge on the final play of the game when Bridgers stole the ball from New Brighton.

Ellwood's opening lineup will be the same with the possible exception of the right end spot. Presto, the regular line, may not be able to play because of a rib injury received in last week's game. He is Ellwood's best pass receiver and his loss will be strongly felt by the team. Bender has been groomed to take his place.

ELLWOOD PERSONALS

Robert Lutten, of the V-12 U. S. Naval Reserve, has returned to Ursinus college, Collegeville, Pa., after spending a 5-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Lutten, Pershing street.

Thursday, December 2, the club meets with Mrs. Edward Wehr, Mercer road.

Kensington Club
Kensington club members were delightfully entertained at a 1 o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. Clyde Hill, Fountain avenue. Mrs. Charles Patton and Mrs. Jean Scanlon aided in serving. Red Cross sewing was the pastime.

Mrs. W. C. Bense, of Wilkinsburg and Mrs. Sarah McLaughlin, of Brookville, who are visiting with Mrs. M. Stafer, Fountain avenue, were special guests.

Hostess for the next meeting in two weeks will be Mrs. Walter Giffen, Foch street.

500 Club
Mrs. Galen Biddle was a gracious hostess to 500 club members at her Ellport home.

To Mrs. Arthur McElwain, Mrs. William Desport and Mrs. Harry Wimer went the nice awards for 500. Mrs. Bert Strutt aided in serving delicious refreshments.

Another meeting will be held in two weeks at the Desport home Rockdale.

J. F. F. Club
Mrs. N. J. Bauer and Mrs. Louis Wehman were guests of the J. F. F. club at the home of Mrs. Leonard Nagel, First avenue.

Honors for cards went to Mrs. T. L. Patterson, Mrs. Reed Hall and Mrs. Joseph Book. The hostess, daughter, Twila, aided in serving dainty refreshments.

In two weeks, Mrs. T. L. Patterson, Todd avenue, will entertain.

Progressive Eight Club
Mrs. D. M. Stamm was a special guest of the Progressive Eight club at the home of Mrs. Robert McCabe, Glen avenue.

Bridge honors went to Mrs. F. D. Powell and the travel award to Mrs. Edith Howells. Norma Jean Howells aided in serving a delicious lunch.

Wednesday, November 10, the club meets with Mrs. Floyd Miesel, Ellwood avenue.

"The nation's capital should be centrally located," said. Give it time, Brother. New bureaus and war agencies should push it to the Mississippi by 1950.

Fetterman-Patton Wedding Thursday

Ceremony Is Solemnized At Couple's New Home By Rev. J. W. Gladden

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 29.—Their beautiful new home, Sixth street and Park avenue, was the scene last night of the lovely wedding of Miss Dorothy Fetterman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde D. Fetterman, of Frisco, to William Patton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Patton, of Frisco.

Rev. James W. Gladden, pastor of the First Methodist church, assisted by Rev. Robert Bell, pastor of the North Sewickley Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends before the fireplace which was attractively decorated with flowers and ferns. The popular single ring ceremony was performed.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a white marquisette, colonial style gown. Her veil of tulle and lace fell from a cap of tiny seed pearls and she carried an arm cluster of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley. A string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, was her only jewelry.

Mrs. Gayle Herron, of Warren, O., sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and wore a becoming aqua tulle gown and carried pink rosebuds.

James Prosser, uncle of the bridegroom, was the best man, and Harry Zeigler served as usher. The wedding march and nuptial selections were played by Mrs. Jack Kimpel.

A wedding dinner for seventy-five guests followed the wedding at the First Methodist church. The table was centered with a five-tiered wedding cake and a pretty white, pink and green color theme predominated.

Guests attended from Piquette, McKeesport, New Castle, Warren, Youngstown, Austintown and Struthers.

Lately in the evening, they departed on a wedding trip.

They are both graduates of the Ellwood high school with the class of '38. Mr. Patton, a graduate of the Cleveland School of Embalming, recently opened his own undertaking establishment here.

Allies Moving Ever Closer To Base At Rabaul

(Editor's Note: The occupation of the Island of Mono and General MacArthur's strategy in the Southwest Pacific is discussed in the following article by Major Paul C. Raborg, noted military analyst and author of "Mechanized Might.")

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Especially for International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—An Allied Southwest Pacific communiqué states that the Island of Mono just south of Bougainville in the Solomons, has been occupied by our troops, and that New Ireland was bombed. The recent severe aerial attacks against Rabaul and Bougainville indicate that General MacArthur's two-pronged attack one arm out of the Solomons, the other from New Guinea, draws ever closer to its present major objective—Rabaul.

Our invasion of Mono is said to have only encountered minor enemy resistance. In the Solomon island campaign, northernmost Bougainville and Bougainville are the ultimate objectives prior to Rabaul.

The object of General MacArthur's present pincer assault is to clear the Japanese out of the northern Solomon islands, New Ireland, New Britain, and the Admiralty islands, all to the north and northeast of eastern Australia. For that entire group of Japanese islands, Rabaul is the main base. Rabaul in turn is without doubt supplied from the great Japanese island base at Truk, better than a thousand miles to the north.

It would seem logical that, after Rabaul and the islands it supplies are captured, the commander-in-chief of the Southwest Pacific would commence a great drive westward through the Dutch East Indies via New Guinea. In such an attack General MacArthur cannot have Japanese-held islands to his rear. It is entirely probable that the commander-in-chief of the Southwest Pacific believes that, with sufficient land, air, and sea units he can recapture the East Indies in a comparatively short space of time and then move northward to the Philippines.

The recent very severe bombings of Rabaul on the island of New Britain, and Bougainville, northernmost large Solomon island, seem to indicate with considerable certainty that General MacArthur will continue with his assault of New Britain and that the operations at Madang and Wewak are only to keep those Japanese bases out of operation. Of course his troops now advancing on Madang will proceed and capture that location.

MacArthur's three air assaults in four days against Rabaul continue his amazing destruction of the Japanese air force. It was of vital importance to the Japanese that Rabaul be kept sufficiently supplied with planes. And Truk apparently sends those planes. But in the past two weeks the Allied air force has destroyed 400 Japanese airplanes there at a cost of only 13 of their own.

Former Principal Returns To Post

Former Principal John Turner, has returned to his post at Princeton high school. County Superintendent John C. Syling announced today, filling the vacancy occasioned by the sudden illness of Rev. Martin.

Mr. Turner started the term, but was forced to give up his duties because of ill health, and Rev. Martin stepped into the breach. He was stricken suddenly with appendicitis this week, and taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital for an operation.

Mr. Turner is serving for a half day for the present, Mr. Syling stated.

PLAINGROVE

Miss Mary Shoaff was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Ellis of Forestville on Sunday.

Jennings English of near Slippery Rock was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Moore on Tuesday.

Rev. Munn of Erie has accepted a call to the U. P. church and will assume his duties on the first of December.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Armstrong have bought the McCracken home on the Harlansburg road and will move there the first of December.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shoaff and family have moved into the Shoaff Homestead. Everett Moore moved to the Joe Shoaff property on Tuesday.

Floyd Gardner has returned to camp, having spent several days on a furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gardner.

Mrs. Sam Patterson, Mrs. Lucy Wallace, Mrs. Bertha Shoaff and Mary motored to Grove City to visit Mrs. John Bartholomew who is at the Rossman hospital.

Miss Helen McCleary left by motor for Gardena, Calif., on Monday. She will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. Clair Hanna and family and will remain for several weeks.

The condition of Howard Brennan of North Liberty seems a little improved. Mr. Brennan is the brother of Mrs. Grace Sankey and Charles Brennan of this community.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Harris McClelland, a daughter at the Jameson hospital at New Castle on Sunday. Mrs. McClelland will be remembered as Miss Elva Hohman of Plaingrove.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Bartholomew, a son, at the Rossman-Bashline hospital on Sunday. He has been named John Martin. Mrs. Bartholomew will be remembered as Miss Lillian Patterson.

Mrs. Bertha Shoaff and Mary. Mrs. Pearl Patterson and Mrs. Lucy Wallace motored to Pittsburgh on Friday to visit at the home of Mrs. Irene Goodman when they helped Janet Lucille Goodman celebrate her fifth birthday.

Friends here were sorry to hear of the serious illness of Miss Marylin Elder of New Wilmington. She is in the Jameson hospital at New Castle. Miss Elder is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Moore and spent several weeks visiting here this summer.

The Plaingrove grange met at the hall on Tuesday evening. After the opening exercises Walter Hess and Kenneth Wimer and Billy Jervis of Slippery Rock gave a demonstration on hog equipment. Final arrangements were made for the chicken supper which was to be held the next evening. Lunch was served by the social committee during the evening.

Begin Distribution Of Christmas Seals On November 22

Directors of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society met in the organization's office, room 219, Lawrence Savings and Trust Building, Thursday afternoon.

Plans for the coming Seal sale were discussed and Andrew Dodds, chairman of the 1943 Seal sale, reported on the progress being made by the committee. Seals will be placed in the mail November 22 so they may be delivered before the mail carriers become too burdened with Christmas mail and will have them in time to comply with the postmaster's request that everyone mail early.

Mr. Dodds also announced that

Mrs. Paul Forcey had been appointed chairman of the speaker's group.

Miss Della Glenn, former secretary of the society, was elected to the board of directors for two years. Arrangements are being made by the group for tuberculin testing to again be given in the schools throughout the county, during the winter and spring.

GIVE FIRST EIGHTH GRADE EXAMINATION

County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling announced that the first of a series of eighth grade examinations is being conducted in the county schools today.

This is a preliminary test to acquaint the pupils with the type of examination they will be given next spring to determine their fitness for high school. Another will be given next winter.

New Castle Underdog In Clairton Game Tonight

Important Game Starts At 8:15; Locals Optimistic

'Canes Leave City Late This Afternoon; Mike Roussos Probably Won't Start; Coach Bridenbaugh Says "We Have An Outside Chance"; Over 10,000 Fans To See Titanic Glass AA WPIAL Clash; Second Meeting Between Schools; Clairton Seeks 21st Straight; Winner Likely League Champion.

Relegated to the role of underdog, New Castle high's Class AA WPIAL champions nevertheless gleamed with optimism as they left the city late this afternoon headed for Clairton, scene of their most important skirmish of the season. The unbeaten 'Canes mix grid shots with power-laden Clairton, starting at 8:15 o'clock tonight, before the biggest crowd ever to witness a schoolboy contest in the busy city south of Pittsburgh.

The rivals have a lot at stake. New Castle chucks down a seven-game undefeated record marred by a scoreless tie with Youngstown East and a golden opportunity to capture the coveted championship two consecutive times. The Bears jeopardize a 20-game string started in 1941. Seven of the conquests were marked up this year.

Before leading his proteges to the battlefield, Coach Bridenbaugh was asked for a statement and said:

"We do have an outside chance of winning. Loss of Roussos is a terrific blow. It's hard to replace a man as valuable as Mike. We'll give them a stiff battle, I think. The odds, however, are against us."

With the exception of Roussos, the remainder of the varsity is in top shape, the mentor said.

Lucidore For Roussos
Marshall Lucidore will fill the big tackle spot left open by Roussos. Lucidore, not as experienced as Mike, nevertheless is a high class performer. Lucidore got a crack at the berth when Roussos dislocated his shoulder the first time and played commendably.

The remainder of the lineup will be comprised of:
Newman and Lengyel, ends; Joseph and Izzo, guards; Sanfilippo, tackle; Robert Preston, center; Williams and McKee, halfbacks; Liebendorfer, quarterback; Lewis, fullback.

Offensively, the 'Canes will try a bit of new stuff in hopes of gaining an early edge which would favor them psychologically. The boys have been aiming for the setto and will shoot the works in hopes of snaring the most desired triumph of the campaign.

Defensively, the Bridenbaughsmen are expected to have a busy evening due to the Bears' vaunted T-formation. "Buttons" Lamendola and Len Kalcovich operate behind the T deceptively and effectively. NC will have to cut down the pair to choke the Bears' high-scoring attack.

Bear Line Heavier
With Roussos out of the lineup, Clairton's line will be much heavier. Nate Hairston, at center, is the mainstay of a veritable wall. He weighs 220 and moves with surprising agility. Captain Clyde Grimsen, at end, is ranked as the closest thing to Don Hutson.

He shifts cunningly and throws the defense off stride repeatedly. He's Lamendola's favorite target.
The Clairton club averages about 180 pounds compared to 165 for the 'Canes.
Clairton has sidetracked its op-

Army-Penn Crowd Will Exceed 71,000

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—(INS)—About 65,000 tickets for the Penn-Army game have been sold and 6,500 more seats in various sections of Franklin field will go on sale today according to William M. Lennox, business manager for the University of Pennsylvania.

Franklin Field seats 71,615 persons and a sellout crowd is expected to witness the clash between two of the East's most powerful undefeated eleven.

Franklin-Ellwood Play 0-0 Deadlock

Patriots Miss Scoring Chance By Fumbling On 11; Game Played Here

Eighty Ben Franklin and Ellwood City junior high, both undefeated, battled to a 0-0 tie, Thursday afternoon at Taggart stadium.

The contest was a struggle between two rugged lines and only once could either side chew off enough yardage to come within scoring distance.

Locals Muff Chance
This occurred in the second when the Patriots marked off three straight firsts to the Ellwood 11 where Hill fumbled when tackled hard by the invaders. Hill and Guinaugh did most of the lugging during the drive.

Ellwood kept the locals in check in the third by blocking Palke's punt on the local 45. They penetrated to the 34 but gave up on downs.

In the finale, Williams dashed through and blocked DiMico's boot on the Ellwood 42. Palke then broke loose on a reverse from Guinaugh.

for 18 yards and on the subsequent play sustained a 15-yard penalty for an ineligible man touching a forward pass.

Statistically, the Cowmeadow-directed eleven held the edge, outgaining Ellwood 137 to 82. Franklin garnered eight firsts against four.

DiMico Standout
Ellwood's offense was constructed around power, smashes of DiMico and he proved extremely classy.

Art Hill was Franklin's big ground gainer with 77 yards in 18 attempts. Captain George Williams' play at left tackle was sensational for the locals. Bill Shaw starred also.

Little III; To Miss Lion-Cornell Game

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—(INS)—Confined to his home with a sinus attack, Coach Lou Little had to look forward today to a radio account of Columbia's clash tomorrow with Cornell.

Sam Cordovano took over for the mentor today as the Lions departed for Ithaca. It was the first time in 12 years that Little was unable to accompany his team. At that time he had a broken neck.

Sports Ramblings

"Who's gonna win tonight?" This is the most asked question around here. I've been trying to dope out the answer for the past week and here I sit no further to the solution than I was a week ago. All the odds are against the 'Canes. For one thing, the locals must travel 74 miles and then perform on a field as strange to them as a pair of silk pajamas to an Alaskan. Injury to Roussos is another weighty factor favoring the Clairtons.

While the Bears rate a big edge, chances for a New Castle victory are not too remote. After stringing with the 'Canes for seven consecutive times, I'm hopping off this wagon and hoping and this comes from the heart that I'm wrong. The Bears' backfield speed, plus their intricate T-formation and a superb line figure in my book as an edge of at least two touchdowns. My guess: Clairton 19, New Castle 7.

Game Good But Shells Lacking Protector Says

Small Game Season In State To Begin At 9 A. M. Saturday

Weather conditions should be ideal when the small game season is ushered in at 9 a. m. Saturday, according to Lawrence County Game Protector Frank Coen. He reports game is plentiful. The rabbit crop is up to par. However, many lack shells. Some hunters are hoarding them the protector declared. He believes the situation may be somewhat alleviated.

Coen issued several hints, as follows:
Do not discharge any firearm within 150 yards of any building.
A fine of $25.00 will be levied for shooting within 150 yards of a schoolhouse.

Hunting at midnight Friday for raccoon is prohibited.
Hunters are not allowed in game refuges anywhere.

Coen said that boys in uniform who have been Over There or are at home on a furlough lack shells with which to hunt while at home. Hunters should "give them a break." He advises those who have shells to be satisfied and not to buy more because there may be none left for the service men. "If it were not for them none of us would be hunting, we would be hunted," Coen asserted.

Some farmers have not been able to get shells. Some of these do not feel so good about it. They own the ground where other people hunt yet they do not have shells with which to hunt. Coen reports that hunters may find some favorite grounds posted because of this situation.

He said he would be willing to act as an agent; in other words, if someone has some shells he is willing to sell, call Coen. He will arrange for the less fortunate individual, especially a man in service, to call and get them. Coen said W. E. Ferver and the Sporting Goods store were willing to assist in this attempt to alleviate the shell shortage.

Angelo Bertelli Finale Saturday

Sharpshooter Would Like To Play In Army Game; Leaves Monday

By JERRY HEALEY
International News Service Sports Writer
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 29.—War brought Angelo Bertelli a great disappointment even before the great forward passer of Notre Dame really gets into the thick of it, he admitted today.

"I sure would have liked to play in that Army game," Angelo Bertelli, whom the rest of the players call Bert, said as he prepared to play what probably will be his last football game for the Irish Ramblers.

Angelo Bertelli Bertelli, the 22-year-old sharpshooter from Springfield, Mass., who has flung 315 aerials in 25 games for a pass completion record of 165, plays his final game for the Irish against Navy in Cleveland next Saturday.

Parris Island Bound
Then he hightails it for Notre Dame to pack his belongings and sometime Monday he will report for boot training in the U. S. Marines at Parris Island, S. C.

The accurate, brown-haired boy of Italian ancestry calls the 1943 Notre Dame eleven "the best Notre Dame team I've played with."

"The material is good and the spirit and team work are great," he added.

There is a remote possibility that Bertelli again will spark the backfield of the Irish, for he has one semester to go and would be eligible for football another year, even though he now is in his senior year.

But he's not counting on being back. He thinks the war is going to last past his prime as a football player. When it's over he wants to coach football and would like a fling at professional football before he steps out of the gridiron picture.

Notre Dame Squad Off For Cleveland

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 29.—(INS)—Armed with new plays and unusual optimism among the players, Notre Dame squad of 37 players left today for Cleveland to meet another of the nation's unbeaten football teams, the Naval Academy of Annapolis, Md.

The new Notre Dame armament of plays, however, is expected to be few in number as Coach Frank Leahy all season has stressed polish rather than variety.

Tech Underdog In Pitt Tussle

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 29.—(INS)—Carnegie Tech's underdog Tartans will hold a final drill today in preparation for Saturday's annual gridiron battle with the University of Pittsburgh's Panthers for the city championship—and an all-out contest is in the cards.

Carnegie's Coach Joe Skladany announced that Ben Baklarz, sophomore left guard, would be acting captain in Tech's final game of the season Francis Mattioli, who plays the same position, will lead the Panthers.

It will be Carnegie's last chance to win in a season that has been without victory so far, with one game tied—0-0 with Lehigh.

Some dopesters consider an upset likely, since Carnegie tries its best in the yearly game with Pitt.

Navy Puts Crimp In 'Bowl' Games

Refuses To Relax Restrictions On Naval Training; Army Stands Pat

By BILL ZIMMERMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The Navy put a crimp today in plans for college football post-season "bowl" games by refusing to relax restrictions on naval training in the nation's top-flight schools.

A spokesman for the Navy Department said no change would be made in regulations regarding participation in Athletics by navy personnel and students in V-12—The special pre-navy course.

Issued last August, the regulations provide that in no case "may an individual or team be permitted to participate in any contest which requires absence from the navy activity for 48 hours or more." This "also applies to V-12 students on inter-collegiate teams," the regulations state.

Bowl Bids Out
Thus, bowl bids are virtually ruled out for most of the country's largest colleges and universities because of the time that would be involved in traveling for the contests.

Practically all of the schools are engaged in the navy's training program and have naval students on their football squads. This includes Notre Dame with one of the best if not the top football team in the nation. Among other colleges and universities affected are such football powers as Michigan, Minnesota, Penn State—almost the entire list.

Meanwhile, the army reiterated its no-athletics rule for students participating in the army specialized training program.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 29.—(INS)—A heavy passing attack was expected today to be launched by the Ohio State Buckeyes when they meet the invading Hoosiers at Columbus tomorrow. The last two drills for the Buckeyes were devoted almost entirely to aerial offense and defense.

Special Notice

Notice is hereby given by the Shenango Valley Beagle Club that the land occupied by the club as a Special Dog Training Area, by permission of the State Game Commission, located 2 miles north of New Castle, on the Coaltown road, better known as the Speiker farm, is closed to hunting of any kind. This is by order of the State Game Commission and the area will be patrolled during the hunting season. The area is properly posted and any violations will be dealt with to the full extent of the law.

John Cashman Predicts Defeat For Penn State; Picks Notre Dame, Army

Saturday Games Real Tests
For Nation's Powerhouses;
Yogi Strings With Pitt

By JOHN CASHMAN
International News Service Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.

The 1943 football season, which was supposed to have opened Sept. 25, actually will not get into action until tomorrow. Not until then will the nation be treated to clashes featuring unbeaten and untied teams, and which, after half a season of campaigning, are as tough as nails. With the warm-up games over and shallow victories thinning out, the real tests of the nation's powerhouses now is in store.

Notre Dame, which is reputed to do everything but carry Coach Frank Leahy through the line, will see some tough Navy inwork and a couple of fast backs. We like Notre Dame on its power alone, much less Angelo Bertelli, who will play his last game for the Irish.

Army also appears to be a good bet over Penn, which has lost a bunch of second and third string ends and starting fullback George Velaz. Glenn Davis is Army's answer to Penn's Bob Odell, and the Army "T" is indicated as certain to wear down a red and blue squad which has lost so many reserves.

Picks W. Virginia

Elsewhere in the east, we say it will be Cornell over bedraggled Columbia and Dartmouth over injury-weakened Yale. It looks like Princeton over Brown and Pittsburgh over none-too-strong Carnegie Tech; awakened Colgate over waiting Holy Cross by a whisker; Rutgers to open its season with a win over Lehigh; Rochester over Case and (oh, oh) West Virginia over Penn State; Muhlenberg over Bucknell to reverse an earlier defeat and unbeaten and untied Bainbridge navy over Maryland.

It's Camp Lejeune over Camp Davis in the south and Fort Monroe over Camp Pickett, Clemson is the choice to trip Wake Forest and Duke is waged to take a pretty close one from Georgia Tech. L. S. U. ought to tie up T. C. U. and Memphis Naval looks good over Miami. O. North Carolina over North Carolina State; Georgia Pre-Flight to beat Tulane and V. M. I. to take Virginia.

Texas A. & M. appears to be a good one over Arkansas in the southwest, and the North Texas Aggies have a chance against Blackhand Air. It's Texas Tech to ride over Rice and Texas to whip S. M. U. Tulsa, we say, will defeat Southwestern.

Fancies Gophers

Ohio Wesleyan might take De-paw in the west and Michigan is a fine bet over Illinois. Iowa Pre-Flight to win a breather against Fort Riley; Marquette over Denver; Nebraska over Missouri and Missouri Mines over Illinois Wesleyan. We now switch over to the believe it or not department by taking Minnesota over Northwestern and Ohio State over Indiana. It's Indiana State over Wabash. Great Lakes over Western Michigan and Purdue over Wisconsin.

Colorado College ought to take the measure of Colorado in the far west, and U. C. L. A. should take care of San Diego Navy with ease. Southern California over California and St. Mary's Pre-Flight over March Field.

Frank Leahy Chants Blues

Fears Middies; Cites Injury
To Varsity End; Says
Season Just Starting

(International News Service)

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 29.—Frank Leahy put on his most delectable look today and came up with something that sounded like his powerful Notre Dame football machine isn't going to fare so well against the strong Navy team.

It seems Paul Lamont, his first string left end banged up a knee in the Wisconsin game.

"Look how he's slowed up out there," said the Irish coach as he ran the team through practice. "Maybe he won't even start in Cleveland. And the trouble is, I don't have a really good boy to take his place."

The morning gained in tempo. Mostly, it was for the benefit of the players, who have crushed all opposition this year with no trouble. It also was intended to have a psychological effect on the Midshipmen, who won't be taken in so easily.

"The team has been looking awfully good," the reporter interposed hopefully.

Just Starting

"We're just starting the season," Leahy said. "Navy, Army, Northwestern, Seahawks and Great Lakes in succession will be the real test of how good we are."

Add to Leahy's "troubles" the fact that he's losing his ace passer, Quarterback Angelo Bertelli after the Navy game, four or five second stringers who are enrolled in the marine or navy training programs, and possibly Capt. Pat Liley, his regular left guard, and you see that his prospects aren't too bright.

Michigan will be out to improve its Big Ten standing against Illinois but the Wolverines need to watch out for the kids from Cham-paign, who will be bouncing back from their plastering by the Irish last week.

Indiana and Ohio State meet at Columbus, Minnesota plays North-western and weakened Purdue tackles Wisconsin in the other conference engagements.

Quick Pickups

By LAWTON CARVER
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Having energetically studied past performance charts and gone thoroughly into the records of the teams involved, it is this writer's opinion that Notre Dame must be hailed as one of the greatest cleavens of all time if it can beat the current Navy and Army cleavens on successive week-ends as it is about to try to do.

There will be close to 50,000 people at the Polo Grounds on Sunday for the Green Bay Packers-Giants pro grid game, and main attraction will be Don Hutson making his farewell appearance here. He has announced that this is his last season in the pro league. He rates among the greatest football favorites ever to play before New York fans, or any fans who enjoy the skill of the greatest pass-catcher ever to pull on cleats.

In case the two-year-old division already wasn't badly enough scrambled that eastern shore, handicap at Pimlico fixed it good yesterday, when Royal Prince, a $48.90 outsider, came bounding in over several standouts. I would like to meet the gent who thinks he can pick the next Kentucky Derby winner in the winter books. He won't be a horse-player but a wizard. There positively is no Count Fleet or Whirlaway in action this year as a two-year-old.

The latest on Dodger players who are in the doghouse with Leo Durocher is that Catcher Mickey Owen is headed for the Giants despite "no comment" from all parties concerned. The Giants insist that they do not want outfielder Dixie Walker at any price, even though he seemingly is doomed to go elsewhere and perhaps at bargain rates.

Some football picks right off the cuff—Cornell is a bunch over Columbia, as is Princeton over Brown, Rochester over Case, Clemson over Wake Forest, Duke over Georgia Tech, North Carolina over North Carolina State, Michigan over Illinois, and Marquette over Denver.

Notre Dame should beat Navy but in no walkaway, and the same goes for Tulsa over Southwestern, Ohio State over Indiana, Nebraska over Missouri, and Purdue over Wisconsin. My own personal three-star special for the week is Penn over Army.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 29.—Notre Dame's last undefeated-untied football season came in Knute Rockne's day in 1930, and the bid of the Irish for another perfect season meets its sternest test in Cleveland's mammoth municipal stadium Saturday.

More than 80,000 fans are expected to witness the encounter, a clash with undefeated-untied Navy. Notre Dame is the pre-game favorite, but blue jacket followers are hoping for an upset and a perfect season of their own.

Score 228 Points

In its thus far perfect record, Notre Dame has scored 228 points and has allowed only four touchdowns by the opponents. Navy, in turn, boasts victories over Georgia Tech, North Carolina pre-flight, Cornell, Duke and Penn State.

Johnny Lujack, 18-year-old sophomore from Connellsville, Pa., is expected to see a lot of action at quarterback for Notre Dame, inasmuch as he is slated to step into Bertelli's shoes at the signal-calling slot after the Navy game.

The Notre Dame pass defense will be tested for the first time against first-class opposition. Hal Hamberg, the little Arkansas back who is the key man in the Middle-of-the-offense, threw three touchdowns in Navy's 28-14 victory over Georgia Tech.

In its five wins, Navy has connected 28 throws in 53 attempts, indicating some talent both in pitching and receiving. On the ground, Navy has an average of 237 yards gained per game, as compared with the opposition's 80.

On the line, both teams present big, husky men who know how to stop whatever is thrown at them.

If the Irish should come through the Navy encounter undefeated, Army, Northwestern, Iowa Sea-hawks and Great Lakes on consecutive Saturdays, still bar the way to a perfect season. And if Notre Dame without Bertelli triumphs in these four games, football fans can mark down the present Notre Dame juggernaut as one of the best grid squads in history.

Notre Dame Pilot Fears Navy Team

Says Middies Have Been Prepping For Irish Since
Start Of Season

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—In this changing and uncertain world,

Frank Leahy, the human seismograph who records an inward tremor every time he unwittingly thinks of all the success he's had, is gamely looking ahead today from a half-season of unparalleled prosperity and wistfully confides that he's finding solace in one reasonably established fact, as follows:

The only thing the Naval Academy isn't bringing along to throw at Notre Dame over at Cleveland Saturday are the stone steps in front of Bancroft hall.

"Let me cite just one item, to show you what kind of a Brannigan this football game is going to be," he said in a telephone conversation. "The Navy has not held a single defensive scrimmage this year, except against the T-form, and the plays we use out of it."

Prepping For Irish

"All the time they were getting ready for Duke and Georgia Tech and those other teams on the first part of their schedule, they really were getting ready for us. They've proved that by every scrimmage that's been held at Annapolis."

Incidentally, don't expect us to explain how we happened to know this.

We trust there was a further revelation which said that he was not to concern himself too deeply with the running of Hamburg, Hume, Nelson and Martin. There have been hard-running Navy backs since the beginning of the century, but the one thing a Navy team is never without is a first rate line. Notre Dame's famous forwards didn't need to know the answers against Wisconsin and Illinois. Half the time, in fact, they weren't even being asked the necessary questions.

It may not mean anything once the whistle blows in Cleveland, but that isn't the best of all feasible ways to get ready for a violent ruckus with a Navy line.

Munger May Shift His Penn Lineup

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—(INS)—Coach George Munger today contemplated one change in his starting lineup for Saturday's clash with Army at Franklin Field—the full-back slot. Art Vincent, John Small and newcomer Grover Cleveland Jones are all candidates, with Vincent probably in line for the job because of his blocking abilities.

The visiting cadets expect to work out this afternoon, weather permitting, and the Quakers will follow with their final practice session.

The betting on Sunday's game between the New York Giants and the Green Bay Packers is all out on the latter, but the wise pro fans who have been following Coach Steve Owens for years are not seeing the Giants short. They know by this time that the New York club lacks flash but generally manages to come through in the tight spots on their own field. They're betting on the Giants.

Fair or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER

INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Dan Ferris, head of the National A. U., says that all of the usual major track and field fixtures will be held during the winter season, war or no war. He can be assured of one thing—the big indoor spots will be packed to the rafters, for most of the standout performers will be in action and if they weren't the customers still would lay it on the line—that's the way sports are going these days.

Steve O'Neil seems safely entrenched as manager of the Detroit Tigers, but don't be surprised if there is a change there and not necessarily to Bucky Harris, as so often rumored. Paul Richards, who was brought up last season as a catcher for the Tigers, was one of the most successful managers ever to operate in the Southern Association.

He is a long, lantern-jawed farmer from Texas and a hot-head in dealing with umpires. He was rated strictly a fighter for ball games while he was managing at Atlanta and several clubs have had their eye on him from time to time.

He could have joined the New York Giants organization had he so chosen, but preferred at the time to stick with Atlanta. He is a capable all-around baseball man and the kind of a tough homere likely to succeed in the majors.

Turf Men Wait

Every one is sitting around waiting for some drastic changes in the horse-racing business around New York. The big tracks in this sector are attracting greater throngs and more money than the tracks anywhere else in the country, yet they still cling to out-moded ideas long since discarded elsewhere.

The main argument against the New York tracks, which currently are a gold mine, centers around their utter disregard for the public.

The man laying his money on the line doesn't want to be told any of that nonsense about improvement of the breed. He wants strictly a run for his dough at all times with his interests protected.

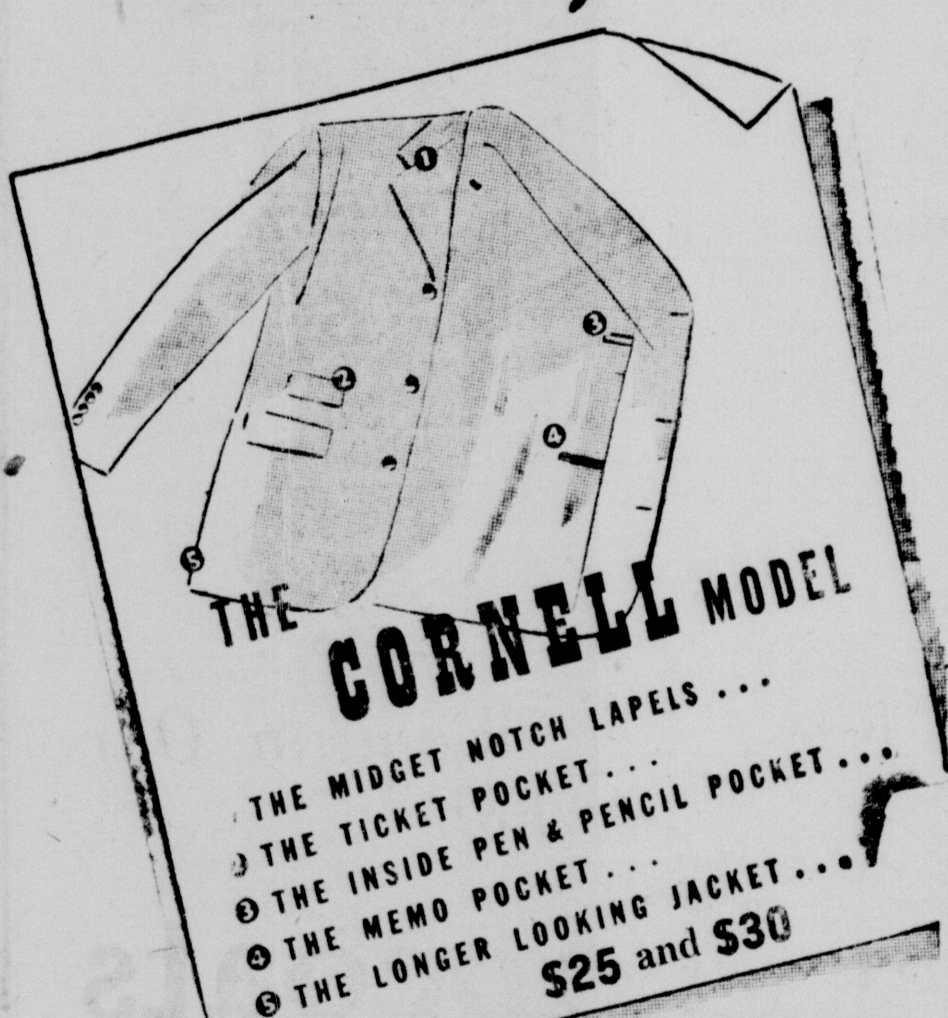

Race tracks elsewhere recognize this. New York, for instance, still employs the minimum of judges. Other tracks put the maximum of officials out there to observe what is going on—and at other tracks the better is respected. Here he is tolerated while the officials spout their empty phrases about the improvement of horse flesh as though the horses and their owners were important.

Year Of Drought

Speaking about racing, this will be remembered as the year of the big drought insofar as two-year-olds are concerned. Pensive looked like a great thing for a while, but failed to stand up and now it is a mad scramble. The next Kentucky Derby winner might be any one of a dozen, including Platter, Weynake, Occupy and Soofiana. There isn't a Count Fleet in the lot of them. And horsemen say that Ted Atkinson stands a chance of entrenching himself among the greatest of all riders. He knows how to rate a mount and gives his best at all times. He is about as popular as any jockey to ride in the east in years.

Sealed Proposals

Sealed proposals will be received by the City Clerk, City Building, New Castle, Pa., at 10:00 o'clock, Monday, November 8, 1943, at which time the City Council will open the same. The City of New Castle is desiring to purchase a complete fire apparatus, being one—500 gallon pumper type with combination pump, booster, hose and ladder apparatus, according to specifications which are on file in the office of Mr. J. D. Alexander, Purchasing Agent of the City of New Castle, City Building, and which specifications were approved by Council.

All proposals shall be enclosed in an envelope marked "Truck Equipment", and must be accompanied by a certified check for Fifty ($50.00) Dollars.

The said equipment is to be built upon a chassis to be furnished and delivered to the plant of bidder by City of New Castle.

The said equipment is to be furnished under a WBR Order No. 1-43, case No. 638-F, dated October 5, 1943; application for which was dated August 19, 1943, and shall conform in every particular to the said authorization.

When the said equipment has been completely installed upon the said chassis, the whole shall be delivered to the City of New Castle by the said bidder.

The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

ED. BROWN, City Clerk. Legal—News—Oct. 22, 29, Nov. 5, 12, 19, 26, 1943.

STOCK MARKET

TREND IS LOWER

Losses Are Small And Selling Is Light During Morning Trading

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—(INS)—The stock market today extended yesterday's decline, although losses were small and the selling light. Liquors continued to lead the slight sell-off.

American Distilling, which rose over 30 points to a new high of 67 in the liquor buying, dropped more than two points below last night's close today before recovering slightly. N. Schenley lost fractionally while National Distillers, aided by yesterday's good earnings report, held steady.

Iron equipments were quiet with J. I. Case, recently strong on a 4 for 1 stock split-up, off more than three points at one time on profit taking. American Air Lines was weak in an otherwise steady aviation group.

Stocks were lower on the "wild-cat" coal strikes, with a poor earning report making Bethlehem, off a large fraction, the largest loser.

Bonds were mixed in moderately active trading.
